

JUSTICE: Stouffville, Newmarket firms out cash

Man, 59, charged by York police

A Newmarket man is accused of defrauding two York businesses of more than $263,000.

Between August 2007 and September 2008, money disappeared from the accounts of a Newmarket car dealership through over-paid wages and the cashing of unauthorized cheques, police allege.

... a Stouffville clothing company was defrauded of more than $9,300 in cash that was not deposited into an account.

Between March 2010 and July 2010, a Stouffville clothing company was defrauded of more than $9,300 in cash that was not deposited into an account, York Regional Police say.

Monday, a 59-year-old Newmarket man, who was employed by the two firms during the above dates, surrendered to police and was arrested without incident.

He is charged with fraud over $5,000 and two counts of theft over $5,000.

He was held in custody and was to appear in a Newmarket court Tuesday for a bail hearing.
