

You can Ride 4 Styles

Friends and relatives of Garrett Styles are remembering the late York Regional Police officer for two of his passions Saturday – cycling and community.

Ride 4 Styles will take cyclists on a route that begins at the York police station in Markham, 8700 McCowan Rd., at 8 a.m.

There's a rest stop at the station in Richmond Hill. The ride will end at the district office in Newmarket.

Participants have been asked to raise at least $100 in donations, which will go to Victim Services of York Region, a United Way agency.

They'll wear T-shirts with the motto: Const. Garrett Styles: Hero in life not death.

You can take part. Register by contacting Det. Ken Bardai at 905-881-1221 ext. 7541 or 961@YRPCA or at the starting line Saturday at 7:30 a.m.

Const. Styles, a young father of two from Georgina, was fatally injured in June during a traffic stop in East Gwillimbury.

Cancer survivor running for others

Sunday's York Region CIBC Run for the Cure is personal for Vicky Yakubuski.

The Stouffville mother of two was 46 years old and living an active lifestyle when she was shocked by a breast cancer diagnosis three years ago.

"I'm running for every woman who has recently been diagnosed with breast cancer," Mrs. Yakubuski said.

The 20th annual Canadian Breast Cancer Foundation fundraiser is taking place in 59 communities across Canada. York's event is being held in Richmond Hill.

The Run for the Cure raises funds for research, education and advocacy.

Last year, more than 4,000 participants in York raised $590,000.

This year, the foundation wants to know "Who are you running for?"

You can run or walk 1 or 5 km Sunday at 10 a.m. from Richmond Green High School. For more information visit: www.cbcf.org; Twitter www.twitter.com/cbcf\_yorkregion
