Flamboyant colours warm up the winter

Just like clothing styles, new decorating trends surge forth every year, allowing us to keep our homes beautiful and modern for little cost. Use colour to your full advantage this winter and fill your home with shades from the 2012 palette, featuring the energizing effects of sunlight.

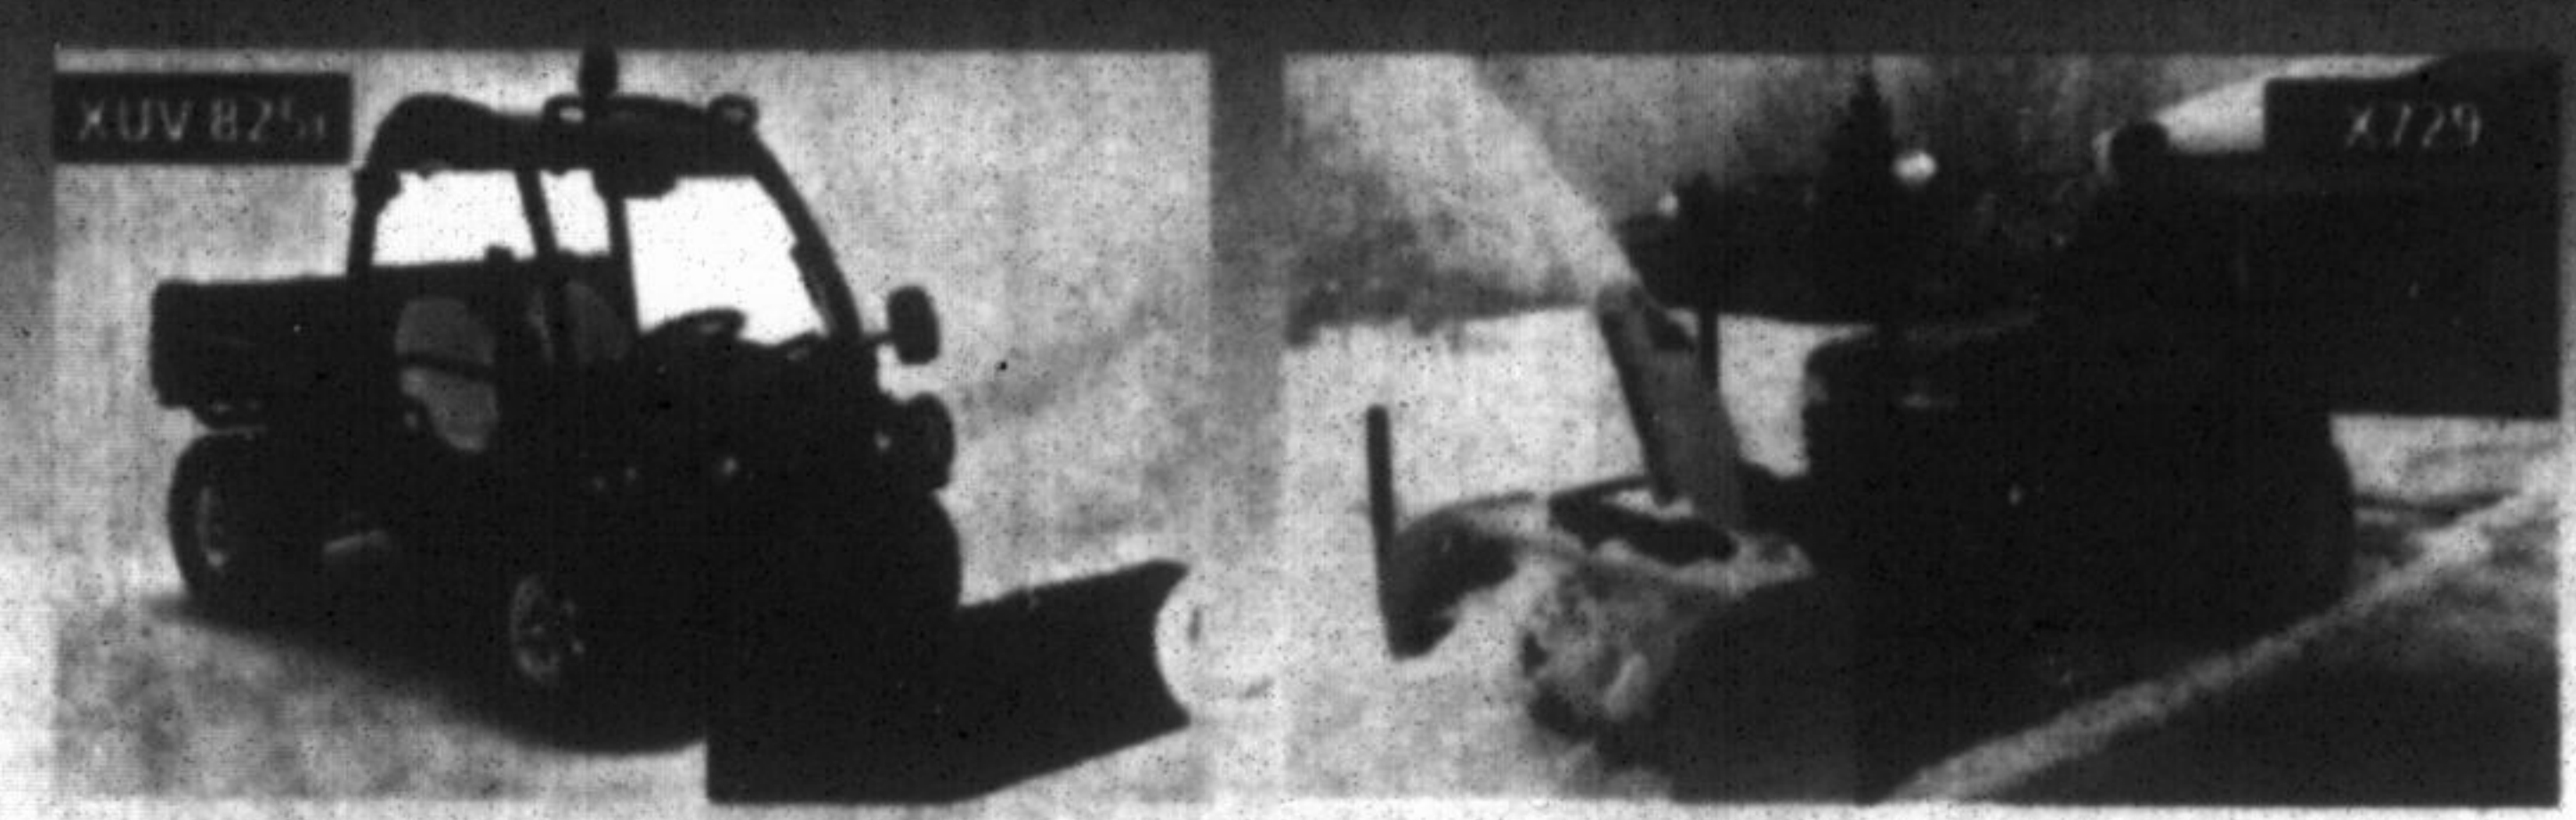

The ten colours in the spotlight this year are bamboo, bright red, honeysuckle pink, deep purple, cedar green, green-blue of the ocean depths, dark chestnut, nougat, orange, and pale grey.

Who said winter had to be grey? Wall colours are important in determining the energy levels of our homes; they reflect our moods, good or bad, especially when the days are so much shorter. That is why creative experts in design, architecture, and fashion encourage new trends. These days, their choices are most often all about passionate colours and vibrant surroundings.

If it's difficult to be daring, be aware that tones of white are making a huge comeback as a backdrop. That means you can bring your home up to date with accents.

WINTER HAS NO IDEA WHAT'S ABOUT TO HIT IT.
