SDSS fielding OFSAA games

One school's loss is another school's gain.

Stouffville District Secondary School is hosting some pool play games today and Friday during the Ontario Federation of School Athletic Associations girls' field hockey championships.

That all came about when Unionville High School was unable to host the matches due to poor field conditions, said Sarah Bubnick, Stouffville's coach and a member of the York Region OFSAA field hockey convening staff.

"We were the next closest school with the best field," she said.

The matches will begin today at 9:30 a.m. with East Elgin facing Ashbury College (Ottawa) followed by Nepean and Newmarket at 11 a.m.; top seed Sir John A. MacDonald (Waterloo) against Malvern at 1 p.m. and sixth seed Pickering against York Region champion St. Brother Andre of Markham at 2:30 p.m.

Other matches will be played at Bill Crothers and Markville in Markham through Saturday.
