Santa Claus and Mrs. Claus made an appearance at the Christian Horizons charity dinner last Friday night.

Residents support Christian Horizons dinner

Susan Robertson knows first-hand the kind of work Christian Horizons does.

Her brother, Andrew, has received support from the faith-based, non-profit organization for about 12 years.

"I honestly don't know what we'd do without them," Ms Robertson said.

She held a private charity event and Christmas dinner Dec. 9 for about 50 Christian Horizons residents from Stouffville and Richmond Hill.

Ms Robertson said she held the event because Christian Horizons' organizational resources are minimal and because many of the residents live marginalized lives with no source of income and sometimes no family.

"I've always wanted to host an event for them to offer some much needed Christmas cheer," she said.

More than 20 area organizations and businesses supplied food for the dinner as well as door prizes.

Santa and Mrs. Claus made an appearance, while entertainment was provided by St. Mark's choir.
