From the STOUFFVILLE PHARMASAVE blog:

COLD SORES

About 60% of the population have suffered from cold sores at some point in their lives and on average, people who get cold sores have 2 or 3 episodes a year. We are now happy to offer an over the counter solution to this common problem. We have developed an antiviral lip balm designed for daily usage for the prevent of cold sores. It can also be used at the first sign of cold sore symptoms to help reduce the severity and duration of symptoms.

Our product differs from your typical over the counter and prescription options as it contains a blend of two all natural anti-viral ingredients paired with a pain reliever and sunblock and is offered at a very reasonable price.
