

Gallery exhibit opens with performance

Four Japanese-Canadian contemporary artists showcase their work at The Latcham Gallery June 14 to July 28 in TransFormal.

At the opening reception tonight, Governor General award winner for visual and media arts, Nobuo Kubota, will give a sound poetry performance.

Sculpture, photography and works on paper that relate directly to Mr. Kubota's performance will also be on display.

Louise Noguchi, as part of her Shanghai Dragon series, has created towering otherworldly forms out of pink Styrofoam that resemble robotic misfits.

Naomi Yasui uses the gallery's walls to create an alchemical apothecary in her Alchemical Vessel series, which is a collection of 59 porcelain vessels that each represent one of the 59 elements of Torber Bergman's 1775 table.

Akira Yoshikawa, who was a part the gallery's 2008 exhibition Order/Disorder: A Sculpture Show, returns with new pieces that investigate order and chaos.

The opening reception and performance June 14 runs from 7 to 9 p.m. at The Latcham Gallery, 6240 Main St. For more information, go to www.latchamgallery.ca

50-plus crowd focus of new chamber show

A lifestyle show for the 50 and older set will take place June 23 at the Lebovic Centre for Arts and Entertainment - Nineteen on the Park.

It is being hosted by the Whitchurch-Stouffville Chamber of Commerce and runs from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"We think it's obviously a burgeoning market. Our members can benefit and get their message out to the public," said Edward Nelles, executive director of the chamber, in an interview with The Sun-Tribune.

Businesses at the show will include Riverin Law Firm, Stouffville IDA, ReMax, Chapel Ridge Funeral Home, Retire at Home, Stonehouse Travel, O'Neill Funeral Home and Debt Freedom Financial Services.

"The lifestyle choices and the retirement options available to them are so many and varied that it is almost impossible to get too much advice on this subject," Mr. Nelles said.

Admission is $5 at the door, which will be donated to the Alzheimer's Society.
