Springvale Baptist Church's gym/sanctuary will host sporting leagues in the new year.

Church gym opening to public

Springvale Baptist Church is reaching out to the community through sports.

The church is opening its gym doors to all of Whitchurch-Stouffville's adults, 18 and older, who are interested in participating in co-ed badminton and volleyball leagues, as well as men's drop-in basketball.

Registration is open to volleyball teams and individual badminton players. The inaugural season will run from the second week of January to the end of April.

"Right now, if you're a competitive player, this might not be for you. Our hope is one day it will be," said Laura Vander Ende, Springvale church's sports co-ordinator.

Men's drop-in basketball takes place Mondays from 8 to 10 p.m. Co-ed volleyball is also currently offered on a drop-in basis and runs Thursdays from 7 to 10 p.m. Starting in the new year, league play will take place in that time slot.

"Ultimately, it comes down to numbers. If we don't get enough (teams) we'll continue as a drop-in," Ms Vander Ende said.

Badminton will run Tuesdays from 7 to 10 p.m.

Men's drop-in basketball is free. Volleyball is $300 per team, while badminton is $50 per player.
