

PLAYOFF PUCKS COMING AT YOU

Stouffville minor atom AA Clippers Ben Espey (back) and Marcus Ferrara (55) eye the puck during their 10-6 win over the Richmond Hill Stars at the Clippers Sports Complex Sunday. The Clippers ended their regular season with a 25-14-5 record overall. All minor hockey regular schedules end tomorrow, followed by the post-season. At least seven Clipper teams will qualify for the Ontario Minor Hockey Association playdowns with the rest playing in the York-Simcoe Minor Hockey League championships. More at wsmha.com

Pierson pumped for UFC in Montreal

For Sean Pierson, nothing has come easy during his mixed martial arts career.

The 36-year-old Stouffville resident doesn't anticipate anything different when he takes part in the UFC 158 card in a welterweight match (170 pounds) against Rick Story at the Bell Centre in Montreal March 16.

Coming off victories in his last two UFC bouts and sporting a 3-2 won-loss UFC record - 13-6 overall in his mixed martial arts career - Pierson is honoured to be a part of the card highlighted by welterweight champion Georges St-Pierre taking on Nick Diaz.

Especially since it will take place on Canadian soil and in the same building he made his long-awaited UFC debut in - a win over Matthew Riddle in UFC 124 in 2010.

"I'm really looking forward to fighting in Canada again and being on the 158 card is big news to me," Pierson said. "The UFC 158 card is stacked with welterweights. The results of this event will have a huge impact on the division, on top of that the card is stacked with Canadians."

Story, a 28-year-old from Tacoma, Wash., has a UFC record of 7-4.

"Rick Story is great fighter, a step up for me, it seems like the UFC always matches me up tough, but I take that as a compliment," Pierson said.
