ten minutes.

That's how long a handful of musicians and authors have to impress you during Scripts and Scores, which takes place Sunday from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the Lebovic Centre for Arts and Entertainment - Nineteen on the Park.

"So if you don't like one, wait a minute and it will change," said Catherine Sword, co-ordinator of public services for the Whitchurch-Stouffville Public Library.

Mrs. Sword will also be reading from her first book, One Mississippi, Two Mississippi.

The other authors are Sue Reynolds, Jim Scott, Charlene Jones and James Dewar.

"I've heard Sue Reynolds do stuff that just rips your heart out," Mrs. Sword said.

In between each of the author readings will be music provided by Bruce MacNeil, Blaise Pascal, Derrick Zuber, Chris Moroz and Marion Drexler.

"Musicians are writers too, they're writing poetry," according to Mrs. Sword.

Tickets are $20 each and available at the library, Whistle Radio or Nineteen on the Park. Cash is preferred.

Charity garage sale at 19 on Park

The Community Garage Sale takes place Saturday, in support of the town's Join In recreation subsidy fund.

The garage sale runs from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. in front of Nineteen on the Park, weather permitting. Otherwise it will be moved inside the arts centre. No early birds please.

For more information, call the town's leisure department at 905-642-7529.

Shred documents at safety village

You can play a role in shredding identity theft. We are all guilty of discarding junk mail, such as a pre-approved credit card application, we receive in the mail.

But what you may not realize is you're leaving a wealth of information and temptation for criminals in your trash, York Region Crime Stoppers police co-ordinator Sgt. Trevor Hanco said. Criminals are filling out these applications and putting a different address on them, which means they can secure a credit card in your name, he said.

"It only takes a little more information than what's available in the phone book."

Sgt. Hanco shreds everything with any hint of personal information on it, including ripping off magazine covers and shredding them before recycling the rest.

For those who have boxes of old files in the basement or stacks of papers needing to be destroyed, Crime Stoppers and Cintas Document Management have teamed up to help you with your spring cleaning.

"Ripping documents in half just isn't enough to protect yourself," he said.

For $10 a bag or $15 a banker box, you can hand over your documents and have them shredded in front of you. Events are Saturday at the Community Safety Village of York Region, 3291 Stouffville Rd., 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., in conjunction with its open house and May 18 at Upper Canada Mall, 17600 Yonge St., 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.
