

NASCAR team 3rd on road course

During the offseason, the Stouffville-based Team Three Red/EHR race team put emphasis into racing on road courses.

At the Canadian Tire Mosport Park road course for the first event of the NASCAR Canadian Tire series at the Vortex Brake Pads 200, Jason Hathaway drove the Snap-on Tools/Rockstar Energy Drink Dodge to a third place finish Sunday.

After qualifying 11th on the 2.459-mile road course, the team focused on its strategy for the 51-lap event.

Hathaway was quick off the trailer and by lap five, was up to the 10th spot in the running order.

On lap 31, Hathaway moved into second place and defended his position for the two subsequent restarts.

With just six laps to do, Hathaway was passed, but put some distance between him and the fourth place competitor to finish third.

Louis-Philippe Dumoulin of Trois-Rivieres took the checkered flag for his first career win on the NASCAR Canadian Tire circuit.

The Team Three will have three weeks off to test and prepare for the first oval race of the season at Delaware Speedway, near London, June 15.
