

Highland dancers best in Canada

A team of eight girls from the Breck School of Highland Dance in Stouffville was "machine-like" at the Canadian Championships for Highland Dancing in Montreal last weekend.

They rolled to the national team title.

Team members have been dancing with teacher Lisa Breck since they were very young and have been preparing for the nationals all year.

"Over and above their usual dance classes, they trained every Sunday with a dance called Machine," Ms Breck said. "And that is what they became."

The team wowed the audience and judges with their strength, precision and mechanical choreography, she said.

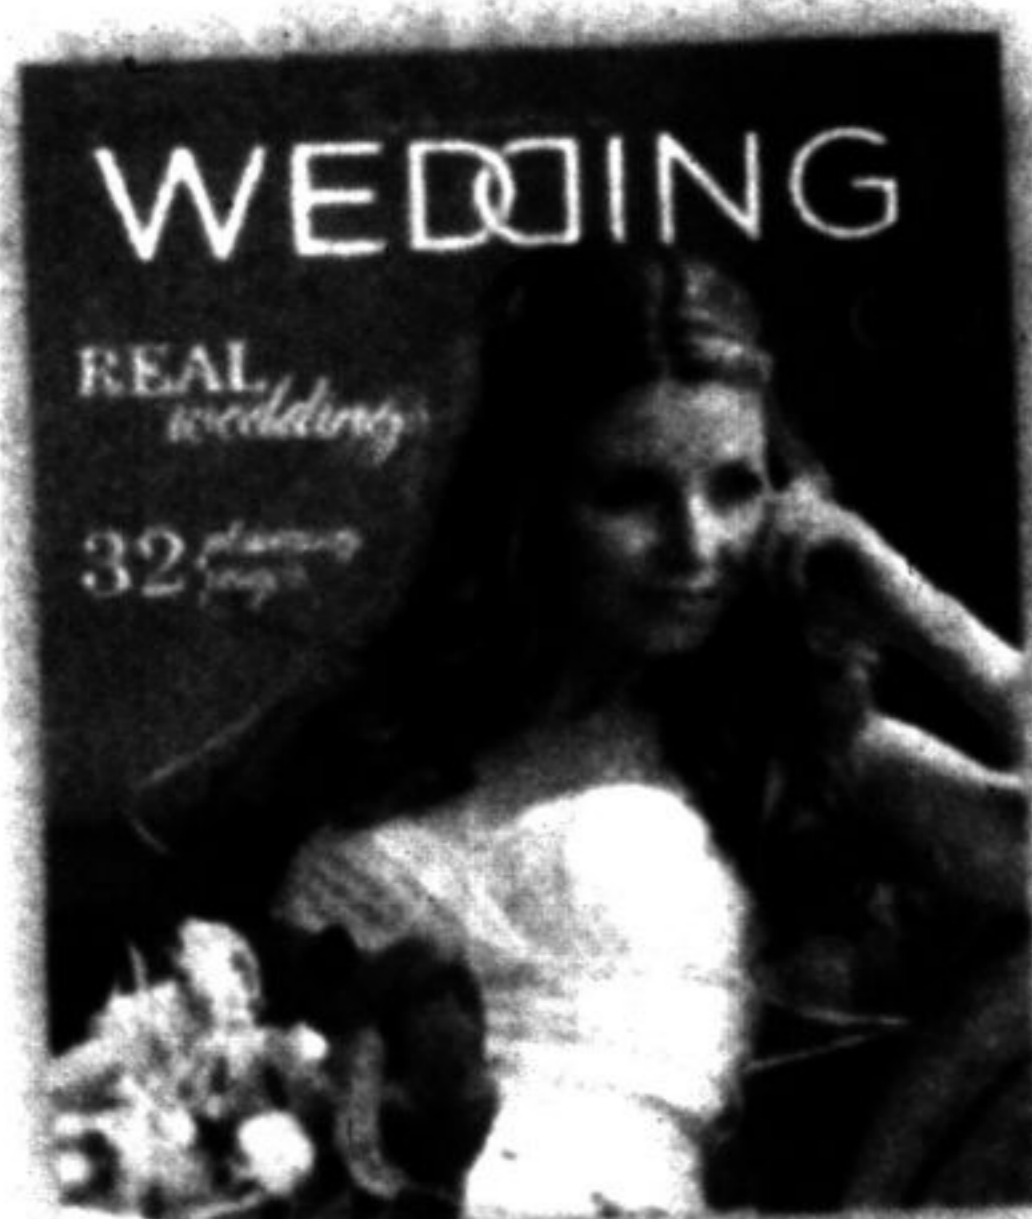

Team members include Caitlyn Mackie, Alison Firth, Angela Panacci, Georgina Muir, Jordyn Zinner, Amanda Legrow, Rebecca Saunders and Kayla Randazzo.
