

Tourney champion tykes giving back to community

The Stouffville Clippers tyke A (MD) entry skated off with the Tyke/Minor Novice Three title from the Bradford Blue and Gold Classic Hockey Tournament after they blanked the Hespeler Shamrocks 4-0 in the championship final.

The Clippers reached the final after playing near perfect hockey when they defeated the Kitchener Mighty Ducks 7-0, North Toronto White 4-0, Dundas Blues 5-0 and Forest Hill Falcons 7-0 in pool play action to finish first in their bracket.

Coached by Miguel Torres along with Steve Wood and Tony Sialtsis, other team members included trainer Aniel Sitlani, goalkeepers Ryan Silverstein and Nathan Marincola, Avery O'Callahan, Trevor O'Dell, Pavlos Sialtsis, Logan Sitlani, Ronan Torres, Rocco Visconti, Isaac Wood, Johnny Andriopoulos, Justin Brauer, Shay Dean, Alexander

Drikos, Michael Lee, Owen Leonard, Josh McGovern and Michael Milne.

The tyke team was giving back to the community this week. They visited the Stouffville fire hall for a tour and delivered toys and food items for the less-fortunate in the area.

Tanaka, Canada into quarters

Cory Tanaka collected one assist in Canada's 4-2 loss to Kazakhstan in their final round-robin game at the Winter Universiade in Trentino, Italy Sunday.

The 25-year-old Stouffville resident and fourth-year forward who attends Saint Mary's University in Halifax earned his helper on a third-period goal by Simon Lacroix that enabled Canada to cut its deficit to 3-2.

Canada finished second in its pool with a 2-1 won-loss mark but still advanced to the quarter-finals and were to face Slovakia yesterday (after press deadline).

A former member of the Plymouth Whalers and Belleville Bulls of the Ontario Hockey League, Tanaka also played an instrumental role in Canada's 11-0 win over the Ukraine Friday as he scored a pair of goals.

Both goals came in the second period, including one on the power play.

Play golf this winter - indoors

Although Old Man Winter has invaded York Region and closed down golf courses for another year, those wishing to make improvements to their game in preparation for next season can do so indoors at the Academy of ClubLink at Rolling Hills.

The Gormley course will have an open house Jan. 4 and 11 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Those in attendance will receive a free video swing analysis and enter a draw for a chance to win a winter golf membership.

All registered members will also receive complimentary access to the High Definition Golf Simulator.

Equipped with 10 hitting stations, chipping and putting green, the Academy of ClubLink at Rolling Hills offers an unlimited practice package for $199 per person.

They also offer a private coaching package at $799.99 that includes unlimited practice and 10 one-hour lessons.

For further information, contact Ben Gross, Academy of ClubLink at Rolling Hills director of instruction at 416-719-6421 or bgross@clublink.ca.
