Bar blitz draws warnings

Some Main Street Stouffville restaurants and bars received warnings following an inspection by York Regional Police, the Ministry of Ontario Tobacco Enforcement, Attorney General and Town of Whitchurch-Stouffville bylaw officers.

No charges were laid.

The inspections, which were based on complaints, according to Const. Andy Pattenden of York police, took place at four establishments Friday night.

Types of violations inspectors look for include over-service of alcohol, underage drinking and smoking where not permitted, according to Const. Pattenden.
