NASCAR entry 3rd in Edmonton

When Jason Hathaway can reach the podium in the NASCAR Canadian Tire Series he feels it's as good as a victory.

That's what transpired when Hathaway drove the Stouffville-based EHR/Team Three Red entry's Rockstar Energy Drink Chevrolet to a third-place finish at the inaugural Alberta Has Energy 300 race at the Edmonton International Raceway in Edmonton Friday.

Starting from the eighth position in the 316-lap race on the quarter-mile oval that was slowed by 11 cautions for 94 laps, including two red flags, Hathaway worked his way up toward the leaders.

With the finish determined by a greenwhite-checkered flag finish, Hathaway finished behind L.P. Dumoulin and Andrew Ranger, who took the checkered flag.

"Any time you can get to the podium in this series it's quite an accomplishment," Hathaway said on the NASCAR Canadian Tire Series website. "It was good. It was a hard race.

"We'll take third place. There wasn't too much damage and little maintenance to our vehicle heading into Saskatoon (next series race) and we'll take that."

Hathaway occupies fifth place in the series standings with 144 points.

The series completed its western swing yesterday in Saskatoon.
