'Pools, walls, cracked
 during road work'

BY SANDRA BOLAN

Cracked walls and ceilings. Broken pool tiles. Tree limbs sheered off.

Those are just a few of the problems some homeowners along Ninth Line have been dealing with for the past two years, as the region re-aligns the road across Main Street.

"I don't want any money. I just want (the region) to repair my house," said resident Jim McCron.

Another area resident, Sandro Velocci, concurred.

"Everybody's putting up a fight and passing the buck," he said.

Salim Alibha, director of capital planning and delivery for York Region, told The Sun-Tribune the region has received complaints and "a couple of residents haven't been happy with the response. We're still talking to them."

He said if residents are dissatis-
