

East Side Mario's hopes to re-open with new franchisee

After more than a decade in Stouffville, East Side Mario's has closed its doors.

Its last day of business was Sept. 7. The Italian family-style restaurant opened on Main Street, just west of Weldon Road, July 2, 2003.

"Cara Operations (which owns East Side Mario's) appreciates the continued loyalty of our Stouffville guests and we hope to identify a new franchisee to re-open in Stouffville in the future," Cathy Cowan, a representative for the restaurant's public relations' firm told The Sun-Tribune via email.

Representatives from Cara were not available for interviews, she said.

Stouffville franchisee Wayne Sorichetti sponsored several sports teams and events during the past 11 years.

Cara is a 125-year-old food services company that owns Harvey's and Swiss Chalet, both of which are still in operation on Main Street, as well as Kelsey's Neighbourhood Bar and Grill, Milestones Grill and Bar and Montana's Cookhouse.

About a year ago, Cara Operations took over Prime Restaurants, which owned East Side Mario's as well as Casey's Bar and Grill, in a deal done with Fairfax Financial Holdings Ltd.
