GOOD EAT CHINESE RESTAURANT

The Good Eat Difference - Fresh, Quality Food Cooked the Healthy Way

For over 40 years, the number one call for the best quality Chinese food in Stouffville has been the same - 905-640-6565. That's the phone number of the Good Eat Chinese Restaurant. Raymond Luo, the current owner of this cosy Downtown Stouffville eatery, is maintaining the restaurant's long established tradition of excellence in Chinese food. "We use only the best quality chicken breast, beef, pork and shrimp," says Raymond, who is trained in the art of Chinese cuisine. "We support local farms by buying fresh vegetables from them."

Raymond upgraded his Chinese food preparation skills by taking fusion cooking training last year. Fusion cooking results in the best tasting food by using fresh food and high quality vegetable oil to produce food that is healthier with less grease. "That means less cholesterol, and we use no MSG so our food is natural." The Good Eat Restaurant also specializes in catering to parties. The Stouffville Legion, Eastern Gate seniors group, and several area churches have all shown their confidence by having Raymond cater their events.

Good Eat Restaurant's manageress Surina Yu says she is seeing more and more new faces in the restaurant as Stouffville continues to grow. "Stouffville is still a very friendly town to live and do business in," she says.

Raymond and Surina would like to express their gratitude to all their patrons who support the restaurant. "Thank you Stouffville for voting the Good Eat Chinese Restaurant the number one Chinese Food restaurant in town."
