Stouffville resident donates $1,500 to Relay For Life

By Kate Gilderdale

When Dianne Darling was presented with Welcome Wagon's 2006 National Irene Renaud Award for Excellence in Service in Canada, she received a Royal Doulton figurine, a cheque for $500 and a donation of $1,500 for her favourite local charity.

Dianne has been with Welcome Wagon for 30 years, and has won numerous awards during a long and distinguished career with the organization. As an enthusiastic participant in Stouffville's first Relay For Life, the Canadian Cancer Society's annual fundraiser, she had no difficulty deciding which charity she wanted to support.

"I was on Pat Wild's team, The Wild Ones, and that's who I chose for the donation," said Dianne, who raised another $500 through her own canvassing campaign. On July 30, she presented the cheque to Pat Wild. A delighted Relay For Life chair Terry Neprily was at the presentation and told the Free Press that the local campaign had raised a total of more than $78,000, with an average individual donation of $218.
