OR, A BROTHER'S PROMISE

CHAPTER VI.-Continued.

"It is nothing, it is nothing. Any man would have done the same in my place."

"But no man has, my friend." natural distaste for praise had caus- dreams, but next day he was the to look at her. The gaze of love is name. comprehensive. It takes in with "I am afraid you can't see Mr. eye is like the lens of a camera, fo- hasn't he, Mr. Grant?" cussing on the sensitive plate of the memory a new image of the world's "Then I think I'd go on board desire each time it looks. It was a and make myself comfortable, if at that moment recorded in Hector's you by 'six." memory.

smoothly over the low, broad brow, as if he were a prince. with that unconscious light that Thomas Smith came on board. makes a man, when first he sees it, hold his breath with awe and fearawe that so great delight is within sir." his grasp, fear that he may be imagining only that he sees it. He has ey?" but to speak and the light may vanish-or it may grow and be a lamp unto his feet for all the daysthe Gleam of Love's Holy Grail.

Hector saw the light and held his breath. But his heart sang, and his blood beat in his temples with joyous rhythm, and Hope whispered in his car.

Beside the red rose in her hair she wore no adornment, save a little crucifix on her bosom, a silver cross with a gold Christ. The folds of her black robe fell in soft lines that gave tenderness to the grace and majesty of her yet girlish figure, tall and simple as a hazel wand. Simplicity should clothe a queen as with a garment, and be the only ornament of her majesty. In Maddalena simplicity and queenliness were rarely met. From her head's crown to her foot's sole she was fair; a king's mate, herself a very queen. She took the cross from her breast together with its hair-fine chain of gold, and holding it in her hand looked long at it, her lips moving in pure heart prayer. Then she kissed the symbol, and lifting her head As night fell on the seventh day. Triana shone the Atlantic eastward and physiology are matters of faith faced Hector with frank eyes.

went out to war, they took with grew out of the Atlantic and cast a Little by little as the day leaped of place in our age-"

Clan Grant.

in her open palm.

"Madam," he said, as he took it the foam of perilous seas.

from him on many points." .

in the papers I have given you." Hector spoke first this time.

to kiss it, he saw that in her eyes | tera.

were tears. Yet when he raised his head again she was smiling. "Farewell," he said. "God keep your Majesty !" "Farewell," she said. "God go with you !"

Silence fell upon them. Hector's That night Hector spent in waking one swift glance more than a fasti- Smith just now," said the clerk. dious anthropometrist might cata- "He has an appointment with you logue in a year of labor. The lovers for six o'clock on board the Jebba, "Yes."

new image of Maddalena that was were you. Mr. Smith will be with yawn of the ditch made itself felt.

So Hector made his way to the

was not selfish, a pride in the man Mr. Smith with it. Seven came, prod himself affectionately for brokshe had called her friend. Her and Hector began to grow anxious, en bones. cheeks were flushed with the same At last, at a quarter to eight, a The night was sleepless. Dawn honest admiration. Her eyes shone cab drove up to the gangway, and had scarcely set her first pink

"Evering, Grant."

"Here, sir," said the captain. "Ready ?"

"Yes, sar." "Then you'd better clear. Ten

"Well, Grant, are you hungry?"

Hector stared. the saloon, and Hector followed in ed. There were hundreds of tiny of unreasoning commentaries on the half-amused bewilderment. He ven- dwellings, washed white and blue works of a few old masters, whose stage and warehouses and funnels patches of flamboyant color the Chinese medicine were contemporaries and masts slipping by with ever- dead grey of the hillside lay under mcreasing speed.

sir? Drop into a tug?" The Orange King laughed.

"No, no; I'm coming with you." "To Palmetto?" "Um !"

CHAPTER VII.

the Isle of Palms rose from the sea. to Africa, a very perfect and un-"Of old," she said, "when knights Three peaks, crowned with cloud, broken blue. into the waters of Palm Bay.

devout Roman Catholic, as were all in the deep blue sky; a thousand from the quarries of Terrino rum- the small intestines communicate the members of his branch of the lights gleamed along the low line of bled over the cobbles, the driver with the cavity of the heart; while the shore; dim lanterns glimmered standing precariously on the end of the colon, after describing 16 cir-· "But I had the thought of giving from the sterns of swarming boats; the long wooden brake. A goat-cumvolutions, terminates by opening you this," she continued, "to be a there was an intoxicating mingle of keeper walked drowsily along, fol- into the lung. shield or a comfort. Will you take boatmen's calls and splash of oars, lowed by his little flock jangling The heart governs the vital prolight songs, and thrumming of their bells. Now and again he cesses-in operation with the cavity And she held out the cross to him guitar and mandelin. Here seemed stopped by a door, and scating him- of the stomach it supplies all ideas me from danger-though I do not when ways and means and myriad asses paced slowly with their loads noble and generous sentiments see where danger lies-it shall be a details were discussed and settled towards the municipal dust-heaps. A emanate. The gall bladder is the rewith the Orange King, vanished from tertanero watered his jade at the ceptacle of courage; its ascent in the After this there was a little sil- Hector's memory-burned in the public trough, and a string of horses body is the cause of a fit of anger. ence, awkward yet pieasurable. Mad- white flame of romance, as a hand- clattered by for a dip in the bay. They have an idea of the continuous dalena was the first to break it. ful of worthless straw is consumed. Softly, mellowed by distance, came motion of the blood; but it seems to "You will not see Don Augustin The magic of the night and the dim the long notes of a bugle blown at be the product of an imagination before you leave. There is some land and the water took him. A the Hispaniolan camp, a mile to the more riotously Oriental than even private business of his own which love song that was passionate yet southward of the city. Ten thou- that which created the other items seems to occupy all his attention, melancholy, importunate yet fearful, sand Hispaniolan troops lay there- of their physiologic knowledge. He went out of town to-day, and half-impersonal yet wholly haunting, infantry, cavalry, and artillery. The They do not know the pulmonary will not be back for three days snared his heart and held it still. long call roused Hector from the circulation; they, naturally, know The subtle smell of the land, so good reverie into which he had fallen. He nothing of the valves in the veins;

"I did want to see him," said to nostrils that for days have sighed and re-entered his bedroom they do not even appear to have Hector, "to get full information known only the salt of the sea- for a "igarette. He had not struck" something of the 'eternal scents' - the match when a tap sounded on "You will find all you can want completed the subjugation begun by the door. all the glamour of the hour and It was a waiter, already shaven Again there was a little silence. place. To crown surrender, came to and sleek, yet with something his mind remembrance of Maddalena, that unkempt bandit look about "Then, madam," he said, "since bidding him farewell with the brave him that all Palmettos possess, individual. I have yet much to do, have I your smile that hid her tears. Not even though they be the most pacific of She held out her hand silently, and break the spell that bound him; nay, families. as he gazed upon her ere he stooped not even the terrors of the carra- "Will the senor have coffee ?"

Now Has Its Place In Nearly Every Home

Because of its Extraordinary Jurative Powers There breakfast at eleven?" is an Unprecedented Demand for Dr. Chase's SYNUP Linseed and Turpentine and lung troubles. Dr. Chase's Syrup advance of the disease and in a few of Linseed and Turpentine has won days he was as well as ever and at the confidence of thinking people.

On account of its simple composiliarly suited to the needs of childhood.

could place Dr. Chase's Syrup Linseed and Turpentine in so many thousands of homes as the one medicine to be relied upon in case of emergency.

Croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, throat irritation, coughs, colds, as Turpentine 25 cents a bottle, family throat, but ere he moved be saw the your trade?" thma and pneumonia are quickly resize (three times as much) 60 cents, silver R. He sat still, and spoke "I'm an ambergris hunter. You It is a good practice to carry the lieved and cured by this treatment. at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates without turning his head. Consumption and other dreadful lung & Co., Toronto. troubles are prevented.

Being composed of the simple, yet | the symptoms of pneumonia when we potent elements which Nature seems commenced giving him this valuable to have intended as a cure for throat remedy. It very quickly checked the school again."

Mrs. A. A. Vanbuskirk, Robinson tion and pleasant taste it is pecu- | Street, Moncton, N. B., writes:-"For years I have used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for curiosity no longer. He siepped be- and another for acting as beater on periments have shown that covered Because of its extraordinary con- my children when they have colds in hind Hector and looked over his the occasion of a Royal "shoot." pails keep 66 per cent. of this dirt trol over diseases of the throat, the winter. I first used it with my shoulder. Evidently he saw some The consequence is that Russia is full out of the milk. On this account bronchial tubes and lungs it can be daughter who suffered from a severe thing which satisfied him, for step- of Caucasian princes, who keep small good dairymen are beginning to use form of asthma. The least exposure ping back a pace or two he drew shops. Nothing short of unusual merit to cold would lay her up and she from his faja a cross-hilt dagger, would nearly suffocate for want of having the letter R embossed at the breath. I must say I found it to be junction of blade and helt. This he a most satisfactory treatment and it slipped under Hector's arm, and laid has entirely cured her. It seemed to on the sheet of ye'low paper. bring the desired relief."

To protect you against imitations, Mr. D. Graham, 45 Calendar the portrait and signature of Dr. ed the man. Street, Toronto, states:- "My boy, A. W. Chase, the famous receipt aged six years, was developing all book author, are on every bottle. I tor.

As soon as their boat had touched the steps the hotel commissionaire, was the reply. who had asnexed the Orange King and Hector-their bodies, souls, and said Hector. lanced the dark with a fiery cry of whispered answer. "Carruache !" Out of the gloom | Hector still went on writing. drifted a dusty vehicle, drawn by a dusty mule, and driven by a dusty ed. demoi half Palmetto, half negro, who wore a Fra Diavolo hat, a Fra lord was coming. Diavolo grin, and portentous Fra Diavolo navaja in his blood-red sash. They took their dusty seats bebegan speedily to taste all the un- years, and then in a group of Mag- ly in northern latitudes, writes Jacob to lay eggs, they must have some proved delights of the carratera.

dure, for Palm City lies away from the port, snugly curled among minlature hills, its blaze of electric the Palmetto preux chevalier, Baldlight showing, a poised nebula, assare de la Luz, whose memory is ed him to avert his eyes from the man of action. Early afternoon amid the blue dark. Two solid Queen while she had been speaking; found him in Liverpool at the offices miles of bump and thump and but now, after a little, he ventured of the Orange King. He sent in his dump; of unceasing switchback, of land, of Arthur the King in England a protection from the cold. Econlolt and jar and jig and jumble; of of Bayard in France. So he passed omy in feeding also demands shel- green cut bones, a food that is eas-Blondin balancing on one wheel and by the question of his picture. the other; of tartanero's cursing; of commissionaire's admiration and tor sharp yelps of encouragement; of clutching helplessness on the part of the second regiment, my lord." of Hector and the Orange King. On one side glimmered the white tops of the breakers, on the other the lord Two miles as the crow flies-four as the tartana thumps. But all things lord. She was standing. Her head, with docks, presented himself to time cap- end, even the carratera, and Hector its dark waves of hair falling tain of the Jebba, and was received laughed when, under the portico of the hotel in the square of San Ber-> streamer floating in the sky ere Hector pushed aside his mosquito 'I thought you were never coming, curtains; and, with a last anothema on all the bloodsuckers of the night, "Sorry I'm late. Where's Peach- passed through the open windows on to the balcony.

The square was silent, save for a few garrulous sparrows that squab-bled viciously in the roadway. To the right rose one of the little side-rose so close to the end of the The captain walked away rapidly. squareithat Hector almost felt that "Let's go and have some dinner." ed it up to the summit. "A back- drawn up with all they can eat of good hay, are affected by anaesthetics similar The Orange King led the way to cloth in a comic opera," he murmur- care; but the whole contents consist WHAT TO FEED STOCK SHEEP. fresh, and all so still; no sign of volumes of Oriental literature, are Hector looked up from his soup to movement or curl of hearth-smoke far too sacred to suffer the smallest see through the porthoies landing- hinted at life; and between the innovation. Those "masters" the dust of sun-scorched centuries. "How are you going to get back, No blade of grass, no leaf made the square, but the burnt leaves were smothered with cobwebs that ploration of any of the cavities of sagged beneath their burden of grey

To the left the square opened into Triana, the Piccadilly and Bond any portion of the human frame. Ac-them a talisman, a holy relic, or a triple shadow on the darkening wet- higher, life began to stir. Old wolove-token, to come between them ter. The Jebba smote her way men in black mantillas, young womand peril or to be comfort at the straight into the black path, and en in shawls of pale yellow and brilend. This stems strange and out two hours later the anchor plunged liant rose-pink, passed on their way to early mass, fingers - busy Hector dissented, for he was a There were now a thousand stars resaries. A country cart with stone cording to Chinese splanchnology,

-what do you call it ?-sec--' "Seco generosa?"

"That's it." "Then will you have the English monies of these co-relations. breakfast at nine, or the Palmetto

Hector laughed to himself. English breakfast? Not surely; bacon and eggs the eternal he had left be-

"Palmetto breakfast, please." When the waiter returned with the fruit and wine he brought also yellow police form for Hector to fill up with his full name, age, profession, etc. Hector wrote in the particulars the waiter looked attentive-had the momentary impulse to start any work at my trade."

"Give me the word," he said.

"Freedom and Maddalena is all !"

"Her Majesty Queen Maddalena," baggage-sprang an to the Mole and "Whom God preserve!" came the

> "How did you know me?" he ask-"Word was given to us that my

"We have seen my lord's picture."

How could that be, since Hector istrands in Aberdeen? But doubt-Two solid miles of it did they en- less, Bravo had had him snapshott-Hector smiled. He did not learn until later of the portrait of venerated in the Isle of Palms, as is that of Wallace or Bruce in Scot- that its abundant fleece is no longer

"Your colonel's name?"

"Who resides-" "On his estates near Telde,

"You must not call me 'my lord." "As my lord pleases-senor. Hector finished writing. He turn- crowded, than in a roomy, stormy bones can be procured and how litwas held high, with a pride that Six o'clock came, but brought no nardino, he saw the Orange King ed and handed the paper to the de- outdoors. if it had been a royal decree.

> ful in this house ?" day of freedom."

"Good! Your name?" "Juan Gastaldi, my-senor." "Very well. That will do now." (To be Continued.)

CHINESE ON ANATONY.

Guess at Organs.

of Machaon and Podalirius, who dressed the wounds of the beseigers most inevitable results of the exthe human body by the Chinese practitioner! No Chinese representative of the Lealing art has ever dissetted -confirmed by images which have been reproduced during untold centuries. Their esteology teaches that Proportion. the skull is formed of one bone; so is the pelvis; the number of ribs varies with the individual, and at the junction of the arm with the forearm is placed a subital patella. Ac-the gates of fairyland, opening upon self on the edge of the pavement and all the pleasurable sensations. drew milk into the can of a waiting The liver is the habitat of the soul; from her hand, "if it does not shield The practical days of the voyage, housewife. Panniered mules and and it is from this gland that all quite grasped the motor function of the heart itself; but they nevertheless profess to differentiate no less than 74 varies of pulse-simultaneously re- Devices for increasing the keeping

WHERE PRINCES ABOUND.

The Russian Government has ap- receive on an ordinary farm, in which noble their subjects on the smallest should be steamed daily. ly at him, seeming to examine his pretext. One peasant, for example, The amount of dirt and filth which every feature with devouring inter- was accorded the style of Prince for gets into milk from the cow is surpicking up a scarf-pin which the prising, and is one of the chief caus-At last the man could contain his monarch had dropped in the mud, es of the rapid spoiling of milk. Ex-

OUT OF WORK.

"For Palmetto, freedom!" answer- that it can be found in the ocean, pour it into a clean vessel in the born what they think of it. You can use it and "Freedom is but hall," said Hec- purchase a steamship in order to go just before or during milking, as the after it."

Saasonable and Profitable Hluts for the Busy Tillers of the Soil.

THRIFT IN SHEEP FEEDING.

Ziegler. Fine wool sheep will bear for the open fleece of the large mut- source or other. ton breeds parts on the back when wet and admits the water, which completely drenches the animal, ter, as not only less feeh is required, ily and cheaply obtained and that is "What is your rank?" said Hec- but is better preserved from waste. Sheep will not eat or drink that ducer ever fed to hens. The bons "I am a sergeant in E company which is in any way soiled or from a when finely cut while it is still green. dirty trough unless forced to.

For lambs, however, I prefer "Don Miguel Ortona y Cajal, my closed house with large double doors on the east or south of the building. These are left open except in storms my or rainy weather, when shut them in, as they do not crowd themselves in shelter like old sheep, and they do better in a closed shed, however When we consider how cheaply the ferential waiter, who received it as Lambs should have grain from the time they are ten weeks old until "Are there any more of the faith- the following spring. A trough can be set with oats in it outside of the "We are twenty-five here, senor, pasture fence, near the watering and of these eighteen long for the place with opening in the fence for the lambs to get it. They will then learn to cat by the time they are Hastens Development and Short four months old, at which time they should be weaned. In weaning, give By a series of experiments Dr. J. them the best green pasture you have Johannsen, professor of vegetable and what oats they want to eat and physiology at the Copenhagen Agriplenty of good water and salt. They cultural college, has established the should be kept in that way until fact that under the influence of ether minutes gained is ten minutes saved hills that ring Palmetto on the land Have Never Dissected a Body, and they are put into winter quarters, or chloroform plants shorter their then they should have from a half period of hibernal rest and develop pint to a pint of equal parts of shell- foliage and blossoms from two weeks the could put out his hand and pluck | Chinese medical literature is copi- ed corn and oats per day, depending to as many months before the nor off some of the toy villas that dott- ous and its bibliography has been upon the size and breed of the sheep, mal time. The discoery that plants tured one or two remarks, but they and yellow and green, vivid and texts, like those of other sacred hay alone, but better on a variety Germany, in 1870 made a special with a little grain in stormy weath- study of the influences of anaesthe er. A daily ration of one pound of ties upon the reflex movements of of grain with straw stover or any kind certain sentitive plants. Prof Joof roughness is a very good feed for hannsen devoted himself especially to stockers. Sheep can be fattened on the study of the influence of anaes various feeds, such as corn, peas, thetics upon the growth and develop-· pleasant green. True, trees lined of Troy. Direful would be the al- beets, barley, sats, clover and grass; ment of plants. He discovered that they do well on either. But for win- while the anaesthetics seem to parter feeding my best results have been alyze the power of the leaves to from corn and clover hay, that fattens fast and makes the best of mut- powerfully stimulating upon the reton, and when all things are considered, is as cheap as any, except Street of Palmetto, and beyond cordingly, their ideas of anatomy green clover, which produces very chean mutton, but the losses from clover bloat and low price of sheep are most susceptible to the influence at that time of year reduce profits in of anaesthetics towards the end of

I feed two bushels of corn twice a noticeable results can be obtained it day at regular hours to 100 sheep plants are subjected to the influence (I am speaking of the mutton kind, of ether or chloroform before they averaging about 100 pounds), and have entered upon the period of rest as much clover hay as they will eat or after they have begun their spring up clean, which will be on an aver- activity. age about 200 pounds a day. They Lilacs, etherized at the end of will, however, need and eat more at July, after they had reached then the start, but will decrease in eat- rest period, but while they were ing hay as the grain ration is in- still in leaves, lost their foringe rap-

them on grain, so as not to over- they had new foliage and a less feed them. Feed a bushel twice a days later were in full bloom, with day to start on, then lightly increase lilacs not treated with other did not daily until you get them on full feed, develop to maturity until twenty of Larger sheep need more and smaller more days later, although otherwise less in proportion to weight. The enjoying the same favorable country corn is cut an inch long with a tions in the hothouse. corn cutter and fed in troughs; 10 Chloroform seems to act more en inches wide, 7 inches deep in the ergetically than other and its use is clear, 12 to 14 feet long is a nice length, but length may be made to suit fancy. The corn may be fed shelled, but I do not like it that way because they cat it too fast, and some get more than they need. using cut corn, the eating process is slower, the food is better masticated

KEEPING MILK FRESH.

and there is a better chance for all

to get their share.

cognizable on the person of a single property of milk are outlined in bulletin No. 26, recently issued by H. In its ultimate structure the body W. Conn of the Connecticut experithe discomfort of landing could men, model husbands, and fathers of is composed of five elements; fire, ment station. According to the bulwater, earth, wood and metal. Each letin, aeration does not remove bacof those elements is in harmonious teria from milk, but on the contrary "No, get me some grapes and a rapport with the corresponding mem- disposes it to contamination from couple of bananas, and I will have a bers of the series of five planets, five the air. This work, therefore, glass of that wine I had last night metals, five solid viscera, five col- should always be done in a clean ours and five tastes. All diseases room, not connected with the stable. originate from disturbances of the Better results are obtained by clean primary and essential quintic har milking and immediate bottling and cooling than by aerating, provided the milk is kept clean and the cooling is thorough. The washing milk pails and pans pointed a heraldic commission to in- one small lot of boiling water serves quire into the origin of the titles of for washing several milk pails, does the numerous "princely" families of not clean them. In fact, it always the Caucasian provinces. Princes are leaves large numbers of bacteria, esmore numerous there, it seems, than pecially in the cracks, ready to mix. anywhere else in the world, since the with the next lot of milk drawn into old Mingrelian monarchs used to en- the pail. If possible, these utensils

But few dairymen appreciate the plied the tramp, when reproached for least three times a day, carried some bureau of business carelessness, go direct to the diseased parts and Hector, catching the gleam of steel begging, "but the fact is I can't find distance from the bara, and preferably spread at once upon the fields. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and up and clutch the fellow by the "That's unfortunate. What is A manure heap near the barn is a

> I now ambergris is worth $14 an milk from each cow, as soon as milkcunce, but notwithstanding that, and ed, outside the milking barn, and no one will advance me money to open air. Cows should never be fed set four money back if not oured. Soc a best as nurchase a steamship in order to go just before or during milking as the dust spread through the bran is a Dr. Chase's Cintmen great source of contamination of the GREEN BONE HELPS.

It is a poor farmer who does not realize that he cannot take grain from his fields year after year, returning, nothing to them, without sometime, sooner or later, getting to the end of his string and finding his land run down and bankrupt. But some poultrymen have not discovered Shelter is the first necessity in pro- that the same principle holds good neath the awning of the tartana, and had not been photograpged for ten viding for wintering sheep successfulthing to work with; they must get exposure better than any other kind, egg forming elements siron some

> In recent years, the practical poultryman has been able to double his .88 supply in the winter by a carciul es study of egg producing foods. Prominent among these must be placed undoubtedly the greatest egg prosupplies that element of animal food so needed and so relished by fowls, taking the place of the bugs and werms which the hens devour so greedily upon the range. Moreover, the bone supplies the mineral matter so needed for egg formation, the lime, the phosphate, the magnesia, tle trouble it is to prepare them for fowls, it is difficult to understand why any poultryman neglects their

ETHER AFFECTS PLANTS.

ens Winter Rest.

to animals was made by Letlerc, 1 French physiologist at Tours about Stockers will do well fed on good 1850, and Prof. Heckel of Jena assimilate carbonic acid, they act serve material, causing it to develor rapidly into vegetable tissue and bring it to maturity long before the

> Prof. Johannsen found that plants their period of rest, and that no idly and at once began to develop Care must be taken in starting new leaves. In five to eight days perferable from an economic point of view. Some florists in France and Germany have already make practical use of the accelerat ing effect of anaesthetics upon plants and have obtained gratifying result with lifacs, snowbatis, agaleas, de at zias, glycinium, and many other flower bearing shrubs.

SENTENCE SERMONS.

God gives peace by sending pain Perfection never comes by patching As long as sin is hidden it is grow

Many a man's walk snulls out his He lights no lives who makes light The poorest church is the one that has no poor. Manhood is the greatest magnet it The serious life expresses itself in simplicity. Uncover the cause of sin and you discover its cure. The giving of grace depends on the grace of giving. The true leader is ever rough to receive new light. When a donkey gets a deplored he hangs it on his cars. A man cannot reverence that which he cannot respect. We need to look forward, for we must some day look back Character is the one thing without limit in its development The best religion to have in hand is the kind we give away. Sanitation is not salvation, lost salvation will include sanitation. False love will fatten a for as surely as true love will finish him. A slanderous tongue without list ing ears would be as idle as a cloud extent to which manure gets into the "A comparison of reports for a milk and the injury it does. It series of years," says the superinten-"I would gladly work, ma'am," re- should be removed from the stable at dent of what might be called the

in the desert. .

To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles,