

HELP ONE ANOTHER.

AN INTERESTING CHAT WITH
REV. R. HATCHETT.

He Asserts People Should Speak Plainly When Their Words Will Benefit Others.

From the Recorder, Brockville, Ont.
Rev. R. Hatchett, general agent of the African Methodist Church in Canada, spent several days in Brockville recently in the interest of the church work. Having with a reporter he said he always liked to visit Brockville, because he found so many of its citizens in hearty sympathy with the church work he represents. "And besides," said Mr.
Hatchett, "I have what may be called a sentimental reason for liking Brockville. It is the home of a medicine that has done me much good and has done much good to other members of my family. I refer to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."
"Would you mind," asked the reporter, "giving your experience with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills?" "Not at all," said Mr. Hatchett, "I always say a good word for this medicine whenever the opportunity offers. I know some people object to speaking in public about medicines they use, but I think this is a narrow view to take. When one finds something really good and really helpful in relieving human ills, it seems to me it is a duty we owe other sufferers to put them in way of obtaining new health. You can say from me therefore that I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a very superior medicine —I know of no other so good. My work, as you may judge, is by no means light. I have to travel a great deal in the interest of our church work, and it is no wonder that often I find myself much run down, and afflicted almost with a general prostration. It is on occasions of this kind that I resort to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I can say in all sincerity that they have never failed me. The pills have also been used in my family, and among my friends, and the results have always been satisfactory. You may just say from me that I think those who are afflicted with any of the ills for which this medicine is recommended will make no mistake in giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial."

The Rev. Mr. Hatchett's home is in Hamilton, Ont., where he is known to most of the citizens and greatly esteemed by those who know him.

READY RETORT.

Most of us are able to supply a repartee if we are given time to think it over, but a repartee half an hour after the occasion for it has passed is like a blank cartridge.
It is the readiness of the retort that makes it effective.

The great Russian soldier, Marshal Suvoroff, was in the habit of asking his men difficult questions, sometimes foolish ones, and bestowing favours on those who showed presence of mind in answering him.

On one occasion a general of division sent him a sergeant with despatches, at the same time recommending the bearer to Suvoroff's notice. The marshal, as usual, proceeded to test him by a series of whimsical questions.

"How far is it to the moon?" was the first query.

"Two of your Excellency's forced marches," the soldier promptly replied.

"If your men began to give way in a battle, what would you do?"

"I'd tell them that just behind the enemy's line there was a wagon-load of good things to eat."

GIVES "GO."

Food That Carries One Along.
It's nice to know of food that not only tastes delicious but that puts the snap and go into one and supplies staying power for the day.

A woman says: "I have taken enough medicine in my time to furnish a drug store, but in later and wiser years I have taken none, but have depended, for the health I now enjoy, on suitable and sustaining food of which I keep on hand a tested variety, plain but nourishing."

"If these my main dependence is Grape-Nuts, especially if I have before me a day of unusual effort either mental or physical. In this case I fortify myself the first thing in the morning with about 4 tea-spoonfuls of Grape-Nuts moistened with cream and not much else - for breakfast and the amount of work I can then carry through successfully without fatigue or exhaustion is a wonder to those about me and even to myself."

"Grape-Nut food is certainly a wonderful strengthener," and is not a stimulant for there is no reaction afterwards but it is sustaining and strengthening as I have proved by long experience." Name given by

YEAR OF HORRORS.

Predictions for 1904 Are of the Darkest.

The papers of Paris are commenting gravely on the unanimity of the astrologers, magicians, clairvoyants, and trance mediums in predicting a year of horrors for 1904.

A leading astrologer named Jacob sizes up the situation as follows, and the others agree more or less as to details:

"Here is the horoscope for 1904, made at the moment the sun entered the sign of Capricorn. It indicates a year of great immortality in London. The Viceroy of India abdicates. The United States have grave quarrels with Russia and Germany.
Roosevelt falls sick and a conspiracy is hatched against him. Serious financial disasters in America.

"The Emperor of Japan has a grave accident.

"An attempt on the life of the Emperor of China.

"Volcanic shocks in Constantinople, Chili and Philippines.

"A fear of unhealthy literature and unlimited materialist.

"The French Cabinet falls between April 7 and 19.

"A panic in a music hall, grave accidents and popular disturbances, in Russia. An attempt to poison the Czar. Serious dissensions between Russia and Austria.

"England loses prestige. The campaign in Tibet falls through.

"Tremendous failures in Calcutta and the Transvaal.

SHE COOKED TOO WELL.

Jones—"So you have discharged your cook?"
Smith—"Yes."
"I'm surprised to hear it, as I heard you say she was such an excellent cook."
"That's just the reason I discharged her. She cooked such excellent dinners that we ate so much there was nothing left over for supper. Her good cooking was her only fault."

SHE IS A MERRY CHILD AGAIN

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED LITTLE EDITH HARRIS'
DROPSY.

Hers Was a Terrible Case—It Proves that the Great Kidney Remedy is Good for Old and Young Alike and Cures all Forms of Kidney Disease.

Weyburn, Assa., N.W.T., Jan. 11—(Special)—No more remarkable cure of Dropsy has ever been put on record than that of little Edith Harris, the two-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Harris, of this place.

The little girl had dropsy in its worst form. She was swollen from her feet to her shoulders so badly that the doctor was afraid one of her feet would burst. Her natural waist measure was eighteen inches, but when the disease was at its worst she measured thirty-four inches. Two doctors attended her, but after three months' struggle with the disease the child was gradually growing worse and the parents had about given up all hope of saving the life of their child.

At this time they determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. Imagine their surprise and delight when under this treatment the child began to rapidly improve. By the time she had taken three boxes, half a pill at a dose, the swelling was gone and the helpless little invalid was transformed into a merry laughing healthy child again.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure old and young alike. They cure Kidney Disease without regard to where or in what form it is found.

"Gladly," said Chumley to his mannish sister, "I've done so much for you, you should write me a testimonial." A testimonial? "Yes, You might say, 'Dear Brother,—Once I was a timid, delicate girl, but since using your collars and ties I have become a new woman.'"

"Is it true that you have been saying that Green has stolen your purse?" "Oh, no; I did not go so far as to say that! All I said was that if Green had not assisted me in looking for the purse, I should have found it again."

"Jealous Rivals cannot turn back headache, never gripe, operate pleasantly.

The vicissitudes of an actor's life are often the subject of amazing fiction, but the facts seem much more startling. The great German actor Ludwig Barnay tells in his memoirs that he has died no fewer than 1,120 times and married 1,721 times. The varied nature of his 1,120 deaths is best expressed in simply dignity of figures. He was stabbed 61 times, shot 51, beheaded 31, died of drink 22, was poisoned 166, knocked on the head 80, died of heart disease, 192; murdered 109, executed 33 (this presumably means exclusive of beheading), committed suicide 314, and died a natural death 55 times. These deaths were spread over 3,868 nights in 98 different cities, 371 plays, and 455 characters.

Charm of the Canadian Girl Be- yond All Question.

The women of Canada are up in arms against certain strictures passed by an English lady visitor on the beauty of Canadian girls, says the London Daily Mail. The press of Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa is filled with indignant letters protesting against the statement that the typical face is hard-featured and sallow, and too often muddy-complexioned.

These charges have raised a storm among the fair women of Eastern Canada. So far from being substituted by fact, the statements made by the uncharitable visitor are the reverse of the truth. The Canadian girl is remarkably pretty, and only those who have visited the Queen City of the Dominion can appreciate exactly how pretty she is.

Writing from Toronto, our special correspondent, Mr. Edgar Wallace, says:

"There is a charm about the Canadian girl which is rather difficult to describe in cold print. That she possesses above the average amount of good looks is beyond dispute; that she is more athletic than her English sister and more womanly than her American cousin is also true. If American in anything it is in hetdress, for she is really smart. If there is something that suggests more than anything her British decent it is the grace of her movements. If there is a characteristic peculiarly Canadian it is her fine freedom, the absence of artificiality and super-conventionalism.

"She is a Gibson girl with a heart, an English girl with a muscle, a Canadian of Canadians, patriotic, large-minded, and above all things, very pretty. In French it is a prettiness which an almost Parisian piquance renders truly delightful.
In Ontario it is a prettiness which seems to embrace all that is best in the American type; and in the west—well, it is a western loveliness, red and white, that most perfect beauty which advertises so well the splendid health of the woman it adorns."

a price that will not exclude the poor from its benefits.

Sore Feet.—Mrs. F. J. Nell, New Armagh, P. Q., writes: "For nearly six months I was troubled with burning aches and pains in my feet to such an extent that I could not sleep at night, and as my feet were badly swollen I could not wear my boots for weeks. At last I got a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil and resolved to try it and to my astonishment I got almost instant relief, and the no bottle accomplished a perfect cure."

SOUND ENJOYMENT.

The spirit of modern life is to plunge into experiences vigorously and get the most from them. This was the spirit that animated the man who preferred tough beefsteak because there was more "chew to it." Similarly virile was the attitude of Mr. Skillings, who had come to order a new family carriage.

"Now I suppose you want rubber trees?" said the agent.
"No, sir," replied Mr. Skillings.
"My folks ain't that kind. When we're riding we want to know it."

Sleeplessness.—When the nerves are un-
