

A DOCTOR'S PRAISE

A Noted Doctor Strongly Endorses Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

The test of any remedy lies in its acceptance and employment by the qualified medical practitioner. No less an authority than Dr. Andrea Amici, physician to the Papal household, writing on the subject of anæmia, impoverishment of the nervous system and disorders attributable thereto, strongly endorses Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, recommending them as superior to other tonics.

Dr. Amici's testimony reads as follows:—"For several years I have made use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in my work and I have always found them efficacious in the treatment of disorders due to impoverishment of the nervous system, anæmia, and neurasthenia, stomach weakness, retarded development in young women, and irregularities. There is no lack of tonic remedies, but in my experience no one of them manifests a superior efficacy to that of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

No more conclusive evidence of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills could be asked for or given, than is found in the above endorsement of this noted European physician. Besides this, however, this medicine has enjoyed a world-wide public confidence for more than a third of a century and has brought relief to thousands and thousands of weak and suffering people.

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anæmia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness and stomach trouble. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

What They Are Saying.

There is nothing more degrading than idleness.—Bishop of Durham.

The next best thing to winning is to be beaten by a good fellow.—The Prince of Wales.

This is an age of many temptations and crowded with false prophets, but the immortal truths remain untouched.—Miss Marjorie Bowen.

The Empire is not a union of traders; it is a union of those who believe in the historic importance of free institutions.—Lord Stanley of Alderley.

Both sides of industry have to get away from general platitudes that lead nowhere.—Sir Arthur Steel Maitland.

"China for the Chinese" means what it says. It does not, and never will, mean "China for the Russians."—James Lorris Garvin.

Be silent, or say something better than silence.—Pythagoras.

FOR COLDS

ASPIRIN

Proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for

Colds Neuralgia
Pain Neuritis
Headache Lumbago
Toothache Rheumatism

DOES NOT AFFECT THE HEART

WARNING!

Beware of Counterfeits

There is only one genuine "ASPIRIN" tablet. If a tablet is offered as "ASPIRIN" and is not stamped with the "Bayer Cross"—refuse it with contempt—it is not "ASPIRIN" at all! Don't take chances!

Safe

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proven directions. Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets. Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monosodium Salicylate (Acetyl Salicylic Acid, "A. S. A."). While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

Friendship in its very nature consists in loving rather than in being loved. In other words, friendship consists in being a friend, not in having a friend.

A Winter Night.

Pure, brilliant sapphire shows the western sky
Where a crystal planet shines with clear-orbed light,
And more remote, through fields of dark-blue night,
The sickle moon, keen polished steel, rides high,
Reaping of little diamond stars a harvest bright.

There, where the horizon's azure meets the hill,
Snow-crowned, sharp-ridged above the frozen stream
A lonely elm leans, barehead, half adream,
Laced branches moveless in the evening still,
Sentinel watcher for the first spring morning's gleam.

—Florence Westcott.

Friendship in its very nature consists in loving rather than in being loved. In other words, friendship consists in being a friend, not in having a friend.

Surnames and Their Origin

GARDEN.
Variations—Cardin, Cardan.
Racial Origin—English.
Source—A locality.

Here is a family name which, though you may think it has a Scottish sound, is purely English in its origin. It is one of those ordinary, normal developments of a family name from the name of a place, a place with which the original bearers of the surname were intimately connected in some way, either having held a title in connection with the place or simply having been former residents of the district.

In names of this classification you will find that, in the vast majority of instances, the surname was first borne by reason of former residence rather than the cause of a title, for naturally there were more residents than there were titleholders.

The place in question is Carden, a community near Chester. It so happens that the family name and the place name have the same form to-day, both having developed into the same spelling from the original form of "Cawarden."

BORLAND.
Racial Origin—English or Cornish and Scotch.
Source—A locality.

The family name of Borland differs from that of Dorland by only one letter. Yet the latter is of Dutch origin, while the latter is either of English, Cornish or Scottish.

There are enough records of the name to establish definitely the fact that it is derived from a place name, and that in the first instance it signified the place from which the bearer had come, or with which he was connected in some way. But as is so often the case where there are several localities bearing the same name, it is impossible without research in the individual case to say from which of these the family name has developed.

The English place name of Borland may signify either "the common land" of any one of a hundred communities or the "bordland," signifying the lands which the Norman feudal lords kept in their own hands for the support of their board or table.

As a Cornish or Scottish place name it signified the rising or swelling land. There is a place of this name in Fifeshire, Scotland.

BABY'S WELFARE DURING FEBRUARY

Should be Most Carefully Guarded by All Mothers.

February is one of the hardest months of the year on little ones. It is a month of cold, blustery days that prevent the mother taking her baby out for the fresh air so necessary to its welfare. Baby is consequently confined to the home. More often than not the rooms are over-heated and badly ventilated and the little one catches cold or gripe. What is needed to keep the baby well is a gentle laxative that will regulate the stomach and bowels; banish constipation and indigestion and in this way will either prevent or break up colds and gripe. Such a laxative is found in Baby's Own Tablets. They are mild but thorough in action; are absolutely safe and they are guaranteed to contain neither opiates or other harmful drugs. They never fail to be of benefit to little ones and may be given to either the newborn babe or the growing child.

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all dealers in medicine or may be had by mail, post paid, at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

To-morrow Will Need Men—

—Who have learned to hold today in high respect.
—Who would rather be right than prosperous.
—Who cannot be terrified from doing great deeds.
—Who dare to take their orders directly from the people.
—Who spent to-day in preparation for big tasks.
—Who can think and will let others think.
—Who will do with ease what we have called impossible to-day.

English Beg Trees to Bear by Song in Pagan Ceremony.

A ceremony surviving from Pagan times was carried out on the eve of old Twelfth Night, January 18, at Carsholton, Somerset, when west country orchards echoed with the wassail song which invokes apple trees to bear a lusty crop next season.

The ceremony was accompanied by much cheering, gunfiring and elder drinking, and it is on record that on one occasion the revelers on arriving at the last orchard solemnly vassailed a lilac bush instead of an apple tree.

Her Number.
He had just arrived from the Old Country and was not familiar with the use of the telephone, so he took down the receiver and demanded:
"Aye vant to talk to my wife."
The operator's voice came back sweetly, "Number, please?"
"Oh," he replied, "she bane my second vun."

By Automobile.
"I'm hikin' from coast to coast."
"You ought to try walking for a change."

There is no better excess than the excess of gratitude.

Indian Place-Names of Prince Edward Island.

Indian names are not always euphonic but dissonance cannot be charged against the Micmac names of Prince Edward Island. The Indian name of the island was Epagwit, meaning "at rest on the water," and many think it is a pity that this poetic name has not survived.

Only nine Indian names are in use to-day, according to the Geographic Board of Canada, namely, Bedeque bay, Casoumpeque bay, Malpeque bay, Minnegash pond, Miscouche point, Pisiquid river, Shemody river and point, Tignish river, and Tracadie bay. Such spellings as Bedeque, instead of Bedek; and Malpeque, instead of Malpek, show that the survival of the names is due to the French, whose connection with the island began with the voyage of Jacques Cartier in 1534. There is the further evidence that while French maps show the foregoing Indian names, the first English map of the island, made in 1765 by Captain Holland, shows not a single Indian name save in a secondary place; Bedeque bay being named "Halifax," after the Earl of Halifax; Casoumpeque bay, "Holland" after Lord Holland; and Malpeque bay, "Richmond," after the Duke of Richmond.

Bedeque means "the hot place"; Casoumpeque, "bold sandy shore"; Malpeque, "large bay," Minnegash, "portage place"; Miscouche, "little grassy island"; Pisiquid, "the forks of a river"; Shemody, "spear pole place"; Tignish, "paddle," and Tracadie, "camping ground."

The recent publication of the Geographic Board of Canada Place-names of Prince Edward Island, states that "Canceaux" (point and cove) is a transplanted Indian name. It commemorates Captain Holland's ship the Canceaux, in which he spent the winter of 1764-5 in the cove. The ship was called after Cape Canso, Nova Scotia, sometimes spelled by the French, "Canceaux." Canso is Micmac Indian for "high banks opposite."

Primitive Honesty.

British Air Ministry Communique No. 1401, giving the official account of the R. A. F. 14,000-mile flight of four airplanes from Cairo to the Cape and back to England (March 1 to June 21 last), contains the following incident narrated by Wing Commander O. W. H. Pulford "as an illustration of the truth of the saying that 'nothing is ever lost in Africa':"

"Whilst the officer commanding Second Battalion King's African Rifles was being taken for a flight his goggles, which he had borrowed from one of us, blew off. They fell in thick bush about six or seven miles south of Tabora. The loss of a pair of goggles was inconvenient for it meant that somebody in the flight had to fly without them. Early next morning about two minutes before taking off, a native was seen running fast across the ground toward us. On reaching us he handed me the goggles, quite undamaged, and then walked away. Where or how he had found them was never discovered, but the incident bears witness to the honesty of the average native."

The Difference.
Mother (correcting Willie's home lesson)—"How can two and two make more than four?"
Willie—"Put them side by side and see, Mother!"

"Worth its weight in gold" Says Ottawa Matron

Mme. Beatrice Charlebois could not hold pen to write. Nerves completely shattered, health ruined. Now alert, vigorous and strong, she gives praise to Tanlac

The two-year ordeal which she passed through before Tanlac came to her permanent relief, was recently described by Mme. Beatrice Charlebois, of 22 Rose St., Ottawa.

"What I endured in that time could not be told," she said. "I was so weak I could hardly walk. My appetite was poor and my stomach gave me no end of trouble. Gas and pains would bring on fainting spells."
"My nerves were so completely shattered that I jumped in fright every time the doorbell rang. My hand trembled so that it could not hold the pen to write my name. Night after night I've gone without sleep, too nervous to lie still for even a few moments. Even my housework became too much for me."
"I tried all kinds of remedies in those two years, but can honestly say Tanlac gave me my first real relief. It built me up so that I've gained 11 lbs., eat and sleep fine and have nerves as calm and steady as ever. Tanlac is worth its weight in gold."

Build up your health on Tanlac, nature's own tonic made from roots, herbs and barks. Your druggist has it. Over 52 million bottles sold.
