Stouffville would need a larger plant but an H. P. Gasoline Engine and suitable pumps would answer all our purposes. A plant of this size would easily have a capacity of about 200,000 gallons in 24 hrs. and at the present price of gasoline would cost about 12c an hour to run It is not necessary that a man should be in constant attendance while the plant is in tion as the engine needs no attention while running.

The time needed to keep up the supply would not be more than two or three hours per day at the outside and the pump could have sufficient capacity to supply

With a steam plant a skilled man is required. A steam plant with banked fives require a comparatively long time to get steam, besides requiring constant attendance. Gasoline power is available within one minute from the time the operator reaches the pumping station. The initial cost of such a plant would be comparatively small.

The Cooper Machine Co, Ltd., of 92 Adelaide St. E. Toronto, are making a specialty of supplying these plants and the success of different installations in the United States would indicate that for this purpose it is a very desirable method of him. supplying water.
