Rheumatism,

BEING due to the presence of uric acid in the blood, is most effectually cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other, and take it till the poisonous acid is thoroughly expelled from the system. We challenge attention to this testimony:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have had no return of the disease." Dodge, Dakota.

"One year ago I was taken with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H.

Madrigal.

If my love shall prove unkind,
How may I repress her?
Shall I call her all my mind?
Will its pleading move her?
Or would silence seem to be
In my heart's mute anguish?
Might she not still careless be,
Though no love did languish?
If I, kneeling at her feet,
Tell my heart's desire,
Will her heart in unison beat,
Moved by love's true fire?
Might she not mistake my sense,
But me cease my wooing?
So would all my eloquence
Be mine own undoing.
Better now than later know
If my wooing please her;
She may love me never, though
I might longer tease her.
Then no more will I delay;
Brave hearts do not tarry;
I will ask my love to-day
If she will not marry.

Condition of Dakota Farmers.

Mr. W. A. Webster of Leeds, Ont., who has been acting as the agent of the Dominion Department of Agriculture during the past three years for the purpose of reporting on the condition of Canadians settled in western United States, and furnishing information to them as to the facilities for homesteading in Manitoba and the territories, returned to Ottawa the other day. In conversation he said he went out to Dakota towards the end of last month and during time had travelled for several hundred miles in South Dakota. The condition of the farmers there, he said, could not well be worse. The crops have been almost a total failure, caused by drought, and in July by a hot wind in particular. The farmers told me that at the beginning of July the crops looked as if they might produce something like the shape of a crop, but a hot [illegible] circumstances [illegible] the [illegible] you must [illegible] the [illegible]

[illegible] have had one [illegible] years have gradually been going worse. Last year their crop produced nothing, and this year is simply a repetition of last. In South Dakota I saw hundreds of farms, and, having stood around the threshing machines, I am satisfied that the wheat crop in the state cannot possibly exceed on an average five bushels to the acre. Dozens of the farmers told me that they had finished threshing, and that their yield in many cases would not exceed one bushel to the acre. Not a man reported to me as high an average as four bushels. Scores told me that the time had come when they must get out. I attended a meeting of farmers held at Westport, Brown county, South Dakota, at which the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas the crops in this section have been failing for years, and for the past two years have proved almost a total failure, we have decided that the time has arrived that we must emigrate somewhere, and having now heard Mr. A. Webster's description of Manitoba's agricultural resources; resolved that Mr. George Lounsberry be, and he is hereby appointed as a delegate to accompany Mr. Webster to Manitoba and the western territories, and carefully examine their resources and the opportunities they possess for farmers and their families to settle, and report the facts to the farmers of this district on his return. Carried unanimously.

(Signed) J. DAMOCK, Secretary.
H. A. JESTER, Chairman.

"The gathering was a large and representative one and consisted of farmers drawn from all parts of Brown and Macpherson counties. The resolution shows just what the feeling of the settlers is, and I could substantiate it if necessary by a score of clippings, from the Dakota newspapers, and Mr. Lounsberry, I should say, is a Canadian by birth. He comes from Elgin county, Ontario. He went with me to Manitoba, and I can tell you he was more than pleased with what he saw there. From what I saw and heard hundreds would willingly leave the country if only they had the means to get out. Many of them have their farms mortgaged up to the very last dollar, the rate of interest on real estate averaging 15 per cent., while on goods and chattels it runs all the way up from 20 to 60 and even 100 per cent. It is given out that one-third will be lost to the way they have suffered. No wonder that many of them, loaded down with debt, are skipping out. Men whom you might see to-day are gone to-morrow. The committee of five which wrote from Leeds, Macpherson county, to the Toronto board of trade last year asking for aid are all gone, I could not find a trace of one of them this year."

British Iron and Steel Association.

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—Dr. Selwyn has returned from his trip to New York, where he invited, on behalf of the Canadian Government, the members of the British Iron and Steel Association to visit the Dominion. He says that the programme of the association is as follows:—It has split into two parties. One goes to Pittsburg, where a three days' session will be begun to-morrow. The southern section goes to Alabama. After the close of the Pittsburg session the northern section visit Chicago, Sault Ste. Marie, and Niagara, thence to Sudbury and North Bay, returning again to Niagara, where they will be entertained at luncheon by Mr. Wiman. The two sections will then reunite at Washington where the members will be presented to President Harrison. The whole party will then return to Niagara. They will then visit Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal, and possibly Quebec, sailing for home on November 8th.

Sick Headache

IS a complaint from which many suffer and few are entirely free. Its cause is indigestion and a sluggish liver, the cure for which is readily found in the use of Ayer's Pills.

"I have found that for sick headache, caused by a disordered condition of the stomach, Ayer's Pills are the most reliable remedy."—Samuel C. Bradburn, Worthington, Mass.

"After the use of Ayer's Pills for many years, in my practice and family, I am justified in saying that they are an excellent cathartic and liver medicine—sustaining all the claims made for them."—W. A. Westfall, M. D., V. P. Austin & N. W. Railway Co., Burnet, Texas.

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered stomach and liver. I suffered for over three years from headache, indigestion, and constipation. I had no appetite and was weak and nervous most of the time. By using three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured."—Phillip Lockwood, Topeka, Kansas.

"I was troubled for years with indigestion, constipation, and headache. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills, used in small daily doses, restored me to health. They are prompt and effective."—W. H. Grout, Meadville, Pa.

FALL FOLLIES.

Did you ever notice that tall girls often marry beneath them.

A pretty girl doesn't need an elevator—it is easy enough for her to get up stairs.

There is no need arguing against obstinacy. If you squeeze a burr it will prick you.

There is one thing a woman can never do—she can't make a man tell her where he has been.

Something which ought to be stopped—Some women when dancing a prayer in church don't say "amen," but "a man."

A Paris milliner has made a ten-strike by teaching her parrot to say every time a fair client enters, "Oh ain't you just lovely?"

The man who expects to go to heaven on his wife's church membership or on the chickens he fed to the preacher is taking awful chances.

Edwin—"And you'll always be true to me, Angelina?" Angelina—"Why do you doubt me, Edwin?" "Oh, you're too good to be true."

So Jack is married, eh? Do you think he'll get along well with his wife? "I'm quite sure he will. They sang in the same choir for two years without quarreling.

Emma—"We saw a sea serpent from the hotel I was at." Bertha—"Huh! That's nothing. There were two young men at the hotel where I spent my vacation."

"How is it you never go to the seaside, Bertha?" "Oh, no more." "You used to be very fond of the sea." "I know, but I've sort of got tired of em since I've been married."

Fannie—"I understand, Marie, that you broke your engagement with Mr. Earthleigh." Marie—"Oh, no, I didn't clear. It just came apart, don't you know, after the season closed.

She (who has promised to ask for no more jewelry this year)—"I wish I were you for a little while." He—"Why, my dear?" She—"Because then I would buy my wife a pearl necklace."

It's a pity there had not been a phonograph in Adam's time, so that we could now turn the crank and hear Mrs. Adam yell: "Here, you Ad! Come right in here and hold this baby while I set this bread."

There is one great advantage in being near sighted. A man can flirt with his aunt or his mother-in-law across the grand stand all the afternoon and never find out his mistake until it is too late to have spoiled his fun.

A young girl whose name was Melissa had a lover who oft tried to kiss her; She was so very shy.
She would cry out "Oh my!"
Whenever he'd kiss her or miss her.

Schwartzbrod—"Say, you vaiter, dot roast beef vas not right. Take it avay." Waiter—"You said you wanted it medium done." Schwartzbrod—"I know dot; but dis vas too medium altogedder. Bring me some dot vas not quite so medium.

Fond Parent—"Now that you are about to be married, my dear children, I want to do the handsome thing by you and here is a check for $10,000." The Bride—"Oh, popper! How perfectly lovely." The Bridegroom—"Would you mind getting it certified?"

They were sitting together in the dark and her head was resting on his breast. Suddenly she exclaimed: "Why, George! I didn't know that you carried your toothbrush in your side pocket." And he snickered a sickly snicker, but did not explain that he had stooped over and kissed her.

Capers—"I don't see why Chandband, the minister, should give two months vacation every Summer. I'm sure his sermons are long enough." Saulsey—"Of course his sermons are not hard to write; but just think of all the afternoon teas he has to go to." Capers—"That's so. He ought to have three months."

"I am so troubled about my husband," said Mrs. Balman, seeking sympathy from the pastor's wife. "He goes from bad to worse; he is an infidel and an atheist and now he says he is an agnostic and doesn't know anything and doesn't believe anything and doesn't think anything." "My dear sister," replied the pastor's wife, "you don't know what trouble is. My husband thinks he knows how to cook."

And pity 'tis 'tis true—
A letter from the one you love
May be for a week or more
About the city idly rove,
In searching out your door
But let your tailor send a dun,
And in a manner spry
It's sure to catch you on the run
Before the ink is dry.

TELEGRAPHIC TICKS.

The boilermakers at Newport and Monmouth, Wales, have struck.

The Manitoba Government will open an emigration office in England.

The authorities of Constantinople smell a plot against the Government.

Hon. Lawrence Clarke, chief factor for the Hudson Bay Co., at Prince Albert, is dead.

Lightermen at Hull, England, and sailormen at Liverpool have struck for higher wages.

John Card, a Japanese man, made a bad gash in his throat in an attempt to commit suicide.

The suit of the Hudson Bay Railway Co. against contractors Mann and Holt has been dismissed.

The little steamer Dixon, plying between Port Arthur and Duluth, has gone ashore in Chicago Bay.

Near Maxville, in the County of Glengarry, James McNaughton and a little girl were burned to death in their dwelling.

H. T. Richter, of Montreal, and his twelve-year-old boy are missing, and it is feared the father killed his child and himself.

An agent of the Shearers' Union at Melbourne has been fined £155 on different charges of inciting men to break their agreements.

"Oh! I don't think so," said Carlton assertively.

"Craddock—"

"And so I said to her at it. And then she [illegible] and say that I [illegible] only that I [illegible] should marry [illegible] Service."

Jack laughed [illegible] don't think of [illegible] her giving you [illegible] well enough to be in love with!"

"They'd give me the chance no fear," said Carlton grimly.

"Yes—I daresay they would [illegible] just [illegible] the [illegible]

[illegible] Dennises are going to live [illegible]

"Oh, I've heard that, to [illegible] when she was a child, didn't [illegible]

"Yes."

"What did she marry him [illegible]

"Oh! I don't fancy she [illegible] about it," Jack said carelessly. "She was the sort of woman who does it anyone within her range too much [illegible] a little girl, Miss Dennis was let to go [illegible] own way pretty much, but as a young [illegible] I believe she had the devil's own time. You see the title weighed a good deal with her."

"With the mother, I suppose."

"Of course."

"H'm! What an old thing it is that title do weigh so heavily with women as they [illegible] I should have thought that all the titles under the sun would never have gilded a blatant brute like that, let alone it being only a title in perspective."

"Yes. It's rough on her anyway," said Jack with a sigh. "By the bye, what was your news?"

"Oh! Craddock is going to be married."

"Craddock—you don't say so! And who is he going to marry?"

"Angela Drummond," said Carlton, looking straight in front of him.

"An—gela—Drum—mond! Nonsense," cried Jack.

"Nonsense or no nonsense, it's [illegible]
