STOUFFVILLE, OCT. 10, 1890.

THE TUNNEL LOCOMOTIVES.

The Baldwin Locomotive Works, Philadelphia, have the contract for building four decapod tank locomotives for service in the new railway tunnel under the St. Clair River between Port Huron, Mich., and Sarnia, Canada. These engines are to have cylinders 22 by 28 inches, five pairs of driving wheels 49 inches in diameter on tire, the tires, and will weigh in working order, including 1,800 gallons of water in the tank, about 180,000 lbs. They will have boilers 74 inches in diameter, carrying 160 lbs. steam pressure. The firebox is 11 feet long by 3½ feet wide. There will be about 280 tubes, 2¼ inches in diameter and 13 feet 6 inches long. The cab is placed centrally over the boiler with foot plate and coal box at the rear of the boiler. The wheel base is 18 feet 3 inches. As the track through the tunnel is straight, the engines are not required to pass curves on the main line, and are only required to enter ordinary sidings. Additional play will be given the tires of the extreme driving wheels. The second and fourth pairs of driving wheels will be flanged with the usual play, and the distance between their centres is 8 feet 9 inches. The tires are to be secured by Mansell retaining rings, and each engine will be fitted with two sand boxes and two headlights, a Cooke steam bell ringer, and the Westinghouse automatic brake, with equalized driver brake fixtures acting on all the wheels. The fuel will be anthracite coal or coke. The load which these engines are intended to haul is about 760 tons, and the grades are 105.6 ft. per mile. They are to be delivered in January.

WHITCHURCH FALL FAIR.

The attendance at the annual fall exhibition of the Whitchurch Agricultural Society which was held in this town on Monday and Tuesday of this week was not as large as desired. But so far as the exhibits were concerned the fair was much in advance of former years, and the number of entries 150 more than last year. There is a common saying that "fall fairs bring rain," but whether they do or not the weather was wet and disagreeable on both days, which not only prevented a large number of visitors from attending but also several parties from a distance who had made entries. Had the weather been favorable we feel certain that the exhibition in every respect would have been a huge success. For want of space we are prevented from commenting upon any of the exhibits. The following is the WHITEVALE.

When Mr. Geo. Besse started from his home to come here for a short time he was the possessor of a largely packed valise, containing an overcoat and several articles of gent's wearing apparel, insended for his use when here. On arrival at Locust Hill station Mr. Besse left his valise and proceeded to Markham. A day or two after he called at the station for the purpose of getting his overcoat. Recovering the valise, he hied himself away to Nighswander's hotel and on opening the valise Mr. Besse's surprise can be better imagined than described when the following articles were presented to his gaze:—One ladies' night shirt, two pair drawers, two dresses, curling tongs, two night caps, one bottles of rouge and a bog of hair pins. Mr. Besse has not yet recovered his own valise, and he states that he will make an exchange for his own and no questions will be asked

Timely Wisdom.

Great and timely wisdom is shown by Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in its use when here. It has no equal for cholera, cholera morbus, diarrhœa, dysentery, colic, cramps, and all complaints or looseness of the bowels.

UXBRIDGE.

A disgraceful rumor is being widely circulated throughout the town, which reflects sadly upon the moral reputation of a resident of the town, prominent in church circles, and is at the same time a loud exponent of the Christian Science fad. According to the rumor the wife of one of our most respected citizens visited the house of the scientist to learn of a cure that was reported to have been effected in Toronto, as she had become interested in Christian Science. Shortly after visiting the house the little girl of the host left to go on an errand uptown, when the Scientist took advantage of being alone with the wife of a man with whom he had been most intimate and at whose table he had often broken bread, and attempted an indecent assault. The woman struggled and her assailant's villianous attempt was frustrated. After freeing herself from him she rushed towards the door, when he exclaimed "My God what have I done.', Continuing, he requested her to keep silent saying to her "Hush, shut your mouth, there is no harm, unless you make harm of it. A few days later as we are was consulted and proceedings would have been commenced, but the matter was hushed up, as it was thought better to not give the matter publicity, but it afterwards leaked out and the story is now circulated as above. The Scientist, while attending to his faith cures and holding his meetings, has at the same time been a devont member of one of our churches, leader in the choir and deputy superintendent of the Sabbath school. An anonymous letter was sent the pastor of the church, stating the facts of the case, and it was intended to call a meeting to investigate the matter, but the Scientist tendered his resignation and rendered such an ordeal unnecessary.—Times.

Malaria

Literally means bad air. Poisonous germs arising from low, marshy land, or from decaying vegetable matter, are breathed into the lungs, taken up by the blood, and unless the vitiated fluid is purified by the use of a good medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla the unfortunate victim is [illegible] soon [illegible] covered. Even in the more [illegible] where the terrible fever [illegible] successful medicine has [illegible] terrible [illegible] Those who [illegible] or other poisons [illegible] pure by tak[illegible]
