DISTRICT AND GENERAL

On Armistice Day, November 11, the people of Canada are invited to observe the two-minute silence at 11 o'clock, a special rite suggested by His Majesty and observed each year since the war. In Canada Armistice Day will be kept as a holiday on Monday, November 7th.

An old landmark of Newmarket will soon have passed from the horizon. Another two weeks' of wrecking work will obliterate the old Eagle Hotel on Huron street. The hotel is believed to be about 100 years old, according to Mr. Walter Graves of East Gwillimbury who has purchased the building without the land from the Davis Leather Co.

One of the oldest persons to pass away in Ontario died in the House of Refuge in Whitby in the person of Mrs. William Baker, she being 104 years of age. The poor old lady had outlived all her relatives, and was taken back to the Stone Church Cemetery in Thorah for burial. Half a century ago she was a resident of Beaverton.

Charged with appropriating funds totalling $680, the property of School Section No. 17, Dufferin County, Walter E. Smith, well known farmer of Amaranth Township and secretary-treasurer of the school, was taken into custody last week by Provincial Constable Nelson. It is over a year ago since Smith, it is alleged commenced tinkering with the funds.

Gordon Brown, a nephew of Mrs. D. Everton Jones, of Markham, well known here, and formerly a member of the staff of the Department of Psychology, in the University of Toronto, has been accorded high honor, being deputed to proceed to England, where he will do research work in the University of London. Mr. Brown was the winner this year of the Rockefeller scholarship, and has been commissioned at the end of the year to proceed to East Africa, under appointment by the Colonial Office of the British Government.

Markham Economist:—"No blacksmith has ever earned so high a reputation as James Ley of Markham as an expert in making and adjusting plows especially for the line of work demanded in plowing competitions. He has made and repaired and adjusted plows for nearly all the champion plowmen in Canada. Although Mr. Ley closed his shop a number of years ago, and is no longer in active business, always before a plowing contest his services are eagerly sought after and Mr. Ley is himself still so interested in good plowing that he cannot refuse. For weeks before the big International Plowing Match held this month Mr. Ley was one of the busiest men in town working at a forge kindly put at his disposal by A. Robinson, adjusting plows for the match. Besides doing work for nearly all the local plowmen he "set up" plows for a number from a distance, as far away as Lindsay and Malton. For a man round eighty years of age, Mr. Ley is a marvel."

SOUTH ONTARIO MATCH

Plowing a straight furrow in the face of a biting north wind and between showers was the task to which forty farmers of South Ontario put their hand Friday afternoon when the annual plowing match of the South Ontario Plowmen's Association was held on the farm of Howard Malcolm, Pickering Twp. There were 36 entries in the horse plow classes and 4 in the tractor, the largest number for some years.

Winners in all events, in order of merit, were:—
 Class No. 1, sod—E. Timbers, Milliken; Wm. Clark, Gormley; D. Tran, Atha; G. Tran, Atha. Class No. 2, sod—H. Ormerod, Greenwood; John Medd, Port Perry; Jas. Ea, Greenbank; J. Laurie, Stouffville. Class No. 3, jointer plows—W. Ormerod, Greenwood; G. Cowle, Markham; M. Clendenning, Stouffville; A. B. Meyer, Clarendon; S. Ball, Uxbridge. Class No. 4, stubble—F. Thompson, Clarendon; W. Maxwell, Markham; A. McMillan, Seagrave; E. Clements, Agincourt; N. Steckley, Stouffville. Class No. 5, stubble, boys 18 and under—R. Little, Agincourt; C. Clark, Uxbridge; Geo. Anson, Uxbridge; E. L. Timbers, Milliken; C. Anthony, Whitevale; A. Daniels, Mount Jordan. Class No. 6, amateurs—A. G. Pherrill, Locust Hill; U. Machell, Locust Hill; J. Anson, Uxbridge; G. Mackie, Whitevale. Tractor in sod—L. Steckley, Stouffville; H. Pugh, Stouffville; C. Wright, Locust Hill; R. Malcolm—the latter is only nine years of age and was the wonder of the match, he could handle a tractor like a grown-up man. Best team and equipment, A. McMillan, Seagrave. Best going team in field, W. M. Ormerod. Youngest plowman competing, R. Malcolm. Best crown in sod, E. Timbers. Best crown in stubble, O.B.A. R. Little. Best finish in sod, Wm. Clark. Best finish in stubble, W. Maxwell. Best stroke in Berry's stubble, R. Little. Best finished in boys' class in stubble, C. Clarke. Best plowed kind in classes 2 and 3, W. Ormerod.

Following the match a banquet was served in the township hall at Brungam, when the prizes were presented and addresses delivered by President D. Tran, Reeve G. M. Forsyth, Pickering, G. A. McMillan, Reach; R.R. Mowbray and James H. Ormiston, Whitby.

The match was easily the best in the association's history. It was announced that the next meeting will be held in Reach.

LIBERAL POLICIES AND ACHIEVEMENTS

as viewed by Harry Sifton

Mr. Harry Sifton, candidate to oppose Col. Herb. Lennox, in the late Federal election, was the speaker at the opening meeting of the Oshawa Liberal Club, in that city last week.

Mr. Sifton thought one of the youngest of our politicians has remarkable grasp of his subject, and a forceful and lucid manner of placing his arguments before his audience. His address at Oshawa was purely political, and covered a variety of questions before the Dominion Government, also the recent Conservative Convention.

He claimed that when the Liberal party came into power, the railway situation was in a deplorable state, that the country did not know what to do with the national railways, and that all sorts of proposals were made amongst others. It was suggested that they should be handed over to the Canadian Pacific, thus eliminating all competition. This, he said, would have created a monopoly in the operation of the vital arteries of the whole country. He gave Mr. King full credit for the rehabilitation of the railways in securing the services of Sir Henry Thornton, who had made the Canadian National one of the outstanding examples of successful government ownership.

Tariff Policy

In speaking of the tariff policy of the government, he said that while the Conservative party stood for a general increase in tariff rates, the Robb policy was one which raised on some articles and lowered them on others. He mentioned the disastrous effect the reduction of the tariff on automobiles would have had on Oshawa, if all pessimistic prophecies had materialized. However, it seemed to him that Oshawa was in a very flourishing condition, despite the forebodings of the Conservative wisecracks. He then showed a chart which he had prepared showing the relative employment figures in the United States and Canada, which absolutely refuted the claims so often made that high tariffs are a sure road to prosperity. The chart showed that between 1922 and 1926, when the Fordney-McCumber tariff came into effect in the States, there was a decrease of over 400,000 in number of men employed in American factories, while for the same period Canada showed a notable increase in employment. This he said, proved that the Liberal tariff policy had contributed to the prosperity of Canada. The railway freights then occupied his attention, and he claimed that Crow's Nest Pass agreement, by which the farmers of the West were guaranteed a fair rate from the west coast to Quebec, had assisted materially in cementing the east and the west together. He estimated that the west produced approximately $700,000,000 of new wealth annually, and that the prosperity of the two sections of the country were so interdependent that a low freight rate was absolutely essential.

Might Be Forgotten

Finishing with the recent Conservative Convention at Winnipeg, he remarked that as this was the first convention the party had ever held, they might be forgiven for making a mess of it. He said that the Conservative Party had always accused the Liberals of disloyalty to the Imperial idea, but that in endorsing Mr. Meighen's famous Hamilton speech, and his plea that the country should be consulted before entering upon a war, they had outstripped even the most radical suggestions of the Liberal Party. He suggested that the best thing Mr. Bennett could do, would be to disavow the party platform entirely, and offer one of his own, which might be more acceptable to the people!

GOODWOOD

Have you seen Tunney and Demsey—they are said to be in town.

We notice that some of our neighboring localities are having hot summers. Let's have one too.

Mr. Thomas Farrow, wife and family are moving to Lemonville, where he is engaged with a farmer.

There was a big market this week on turnips, as the farmers were lined up to unload, the price being 10 to 12 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Middleton have again returned to the city for a time, as Mrs. Middleton is suffering from a severe nervous breakdown.

Chicken thieves are again on their rounds. Sunday night they visited Wm. Wel's yard and took about 14 geese, and about 20 chickens from Bert Staley.

We trust that Rev. E. Legate is enjoying the weather in the Bahamas in any event he is escaping a few raw days here. Our readers, and the editor would appreciate a letter telling of life and conditions there.

Our Rawleigh dealer called on a successful poultry man last week who mixes his own laying mash and has used Rawleigh's poultry food for ten years and finds it the best yet.

A number from here took in the event at Clarendon on Thursday night, when Clarendon turned on the hydro. Surely we can get some light for Goodwood now, after living in darkness so long.

All members of the Goodwood choral club and the new ones intending to join up, are requested to attend an organization meeting in Goodwood on Monday night, Nov. 7th to organize for the coming season. H. M. Fletcher of Toronto, will again be in charge.
