SDSS student shines at United Nations speech event

Stouffville District Secondary School's Ray Alibux recently won best delegate in assembly for his speech on the sanctity of peace.

The speech was made during the annual Martingrove Model United Nations debating event, which took place Feb. 16 and 17.

About 15 schools from the GTA and Ontario took part in the student-run debate, which was created to simulate and fully recreate the atmosphere of the United Nations.

Railway historian speaks to club

Canadian author Ron Brown is the featured speaker at the March 10 Probus Club of Stouffville meeting.

Brown will speak about his book The Train

Doesn't Stop Here anymore, which is a nostalgic look back at the days when train stations were the heart of Canadian communities.

Brown has also written about Stouffville's railway history.

Probus Club of Stouffville has about 100 members who come together on the second Thursday of each month for non-political and non-sectarian opportunities to meet other retired people with similar interests.

Meetings take place at the Royal Canadian Legion, 150 Mostar St., from 9:45 a.m. to noon.

New members are welcome.

The first Probus Club in Canada was certified in March 1987.

March has been designated national Probus month.
