Driver in top 10 in Texas

Gormley resident Samantha Tan drove her vehicle to a seventh and 10th-place finish in the first two rounds of the Pirelli World Challenge series at the Circuit of the Americas in Austin, Texas last weekend.

Racing in her OST Racing/GPI/Honda Civic Si, she started well in her first race and moved up a position to 11th.

She continued to charge towards the front of the field, passing several cars along the way but had to battle against a TC class Miata that was blocking her for several laps.

Her concentration and consistency allowed her to finish in seventh position in the TCA class.

In her second race that was launched from a standing start and with grid positions determined by the fastest lap times of the first race, Tan started from the 11th position and actually made up some positions during the first lap, only to have a TC car spin out right in front of her in the last turn and crash into her car.

Although the damage was minimal, it put a lot of distance between her and the rest of her racing class.

Tan kept her pace throughout the race, but found the car understeering more than usual and could not advance further where she finished 10th in her class.

Overall, Tan was somewhat satisfied with her performance for the first two rounds.

"I am not totally happy with the results for the weekend. I think I could have finished a few positions better but at the same time, I am still getting used to the new car and its dynamics," she said in a press release.

"Overall and compared to how I did last year here at COTA, I have to say I am quite happy as it is a much better result. I look forward to the next two rounds on my home track at Mosport."

... I am quite happy as it is a much better result. I look forward to the next two rounds on my home track at Mosport."

Tan will have plenty of time to update the car and make sure it is ready for the next race, scheduled to be held at Canadian Tire Motorsports Park near Bowmanville May 19 to 22.
