Drinking-and-driving charge laid

A man taken to hospital following a single-vehicle crash near Hoover Park Drive and Thicketwood Boulevard in Stouffville last week is facing a drinking-and-driving charge. The Stouffville man, 34, has since been released from hospital. He was charged with driving with more than 80 milligrams of alcohol in 100 milliliters of blood, York Regional Police said Thursday.

A court date has been set for June 17. Police received a call May 18 at 1:30 p.m.

after a silver Honda Civic crashed into a pole near the intersection.

No other vehicles were involved and police report only the driver was injured.

The collision site was cordoned off with police tape as officers investigated.

The intersection is near Wendat Village Public School and the Whitchurch-Stouffville Public Library and Leisure Centre.

The impaired driving charge came as York police reported laying more than 185 impaired driving-related charges in the region during the past 30 days.
