

Aboriginal Ways of Knowing

BREA BARTHOLET

bbartholet@yrmg.com

You are invited to a unique and cultural experience focused on learning more about Aboriginal life.

On Nov. 12 from 10 a.m. to noon, and from 2 to 4 p.m., come out and enjoy Aboriginal Ways of Knowing - an event offering guests a chance to discover and delve into Aboriginal cultures, which have a long-standing connection with the forest.

Through storytelling and forest discovery, participants will engage in multiple activities throughout the Hollidge Tract in Whitchurch-Stouffville that encourage hands-on involvement and interaction with guides.

The outdoor experience will allow those who may be unfamiliar with Aboriginal practices and beliefs to connect with the culture on a more personal level.

nied by an adult. Registration is currently still open for this event and is required before attending. As a word of precaution, please wear insect repellent, closed-toed footwear, light coloured long-sleeved shirts and long pants tucked into socks.

As poison ivy is common in all forests, assuring these standards are met is very important.

The Hollidge Tract is located at 16389 Hwy. 48 in Whitchurch-Stouffville.

For more information or to register for the event, call 1-877-464-9675 or email environment@york.ca.

Pick of the Week features area entertainment, cultural and community events. Send your ideas to newsroom@yrmg.com.
