Ancient Mars, is a digital illustration by Mathew Borrett on a large canvas to emphasize detail.

sharing the references.

His installations, paintings and films have been shown in galleries, public spaces and theatres across Canada and abroad.

Borrett offers a different perspective with his illustrations, as he explores traditional drawings with digital techniques. He's previously worked in the visual effects industry for TV and film, which adds a unique touch to his art.

"From a distance, we at first see a city," the media release reads about Borrett's work Ancient Mars. "As you approach, the city resolves into neighbourhoods. As you get closer still, you see individual dwellings and, within those dwellings, windows into rooms."

"The incredible detail found within Borrett's massive digital illustrations is overwhelming and completely absorbing," the release states.

Latcham Gallery is at 6240 Main St. For more information, email info@latchamgallery.ca
