WhiStle Radio Brings the Spirit to Your Home

The WhiStle Radio broadcast team of Brenda Masson, Daniel Bertuzzi and Rick Callaghan will be announcing Stouffville Spirit home and away games for the OJHL season beginning in early September.

By Brenda Masson

WhiStle Radio will be broadcasting the Stouffville Spirit games live - both home and away - for the 2015/2016 season. According to Rick 'The Stash' Callaghan, WhiStle Radio's hockey project leader and play by play commentator, WhiStle Radio is all set with a great broadcast and technical team in place to cover the season. The WhiStle Radio team of The Stash, Brenda Masson on colour commentary and Ivan Harris on behind-the-scene-tech has volunteered together for more than five fabulous seasons of Ontario Junior Hockey League. "This year we have two very keen and talented high school interns, Daniel Bertuzzi and Ben Smith on board to apprentice in both the technical set up of the games and the broadcast. These two young men have both had a bit of experience in the past but this year they will really get their feet wet," said Mr. Callaghan.

Training young people is one of the mandates of a community radio station. WhiStle Radio is very proud of the students they have trained over the past few years. Some of the interns/students have gone on to leading universities and colleges after gaining hands-on experience at WhiStle Radio. Other interns are now working at private stations such as Q107.

WhiStle Radio provides training for the players of the Stouffville Spirit as well. "Let's face it," said Mr. Callaghan, "whether these players go on to university or the O (OHL) or even the NHL, someone from a major network is going to stick a microphone in their face and ask them some questions. They need to know how to conduct themselves with the media." WhiStle Radio interviews each and every player at some point throughout the season. They learn what to say, what not to say and how to assess the game for the media. At the same time the interns hone their interview skills as well. "It's truly a win win situation" said Mr. Callaghan.

Tune in to WhiStle Radio for the season home opener Monday Sept. 7th at 2:30 pm. 'Go Spirit Go' on WhiStle Radio 102.7 FM and whistleradio.ca
