A Trio of Critically Acclaimed TIFF Films for September

September brings with it a romantic comedy and two cross cultural TIFF films to the screen at Nineteen on the Park.

Wednesday September 9th features the romantic comedy I'll See You in My Dreams, starring Blythe Danner and Sam Shepherd. Danner plays Carol, a retired singer leading an ensemble of hilarious veteran actresses playing her circle of tight-knit friends, including Rhea Pearlman (Cheers), Joan Squibb (Nebraska) and Mary Kay Place (The Big Chill). After losing her husband, they encourage her to "get back out there" in dating, with often hilarious results. Playing her daughter is Swedish-Canadian beauty Malin Åkerman, and bringing another note of comedy is Martin Starr (Silicone Valley) as her pool boy and occasional drinking-buddy Lloyd. Things change for Carol when she meets the charming and laconic Bill (Shepherd).

Felix and Meira (Felix et Meira), which screens Wednesday September 24, won Best Canadian Feature Film at TIFF in 2014. It was also included in the list of Canada's Top Ten feature films for the year. Another love story, this movie is a cross-culture tale set in Montreal. Meira (Hadas Yaron) is a Hassidic woman with an extremely orthodox and needy husband. They observe strict Jewish laws such as women not making eye contact with men when talking to them. A chance encounter with a man (Martin Dubreuil) at a local store creates a friendship; Félix has recently lost his father and is dealing with his grief and trying to rationalize his existence. His warmth and openness is like a balm to the sweet Meira who is extremely naive of the non-Jewish world.

A mark of quality is anything involving Sir Ben Kingsley (Gandhi) and Learning to Drive, playing Tuesday September 29, is no exception. The talented Patricia Clarkson (Shutter Island) plays Wendy, a successful NYC book editor. As her marriage breaks down it's evident she needs to learn to drive. With little time in a deadline driven industry, she has few skills for suffering fools gladly. Meanwhile Darwan, a Sikh man (Kingsley), is a gentle and kind taxi driver by night and driving instructor by day who faces an arranged marriage and future uncertainty. The pair meet and take a universally recognizable journey and through superior performances make it into something really special.

Please note that some of our films are now screened on Tuesdays and Thursdays as well as the traditional Wednesday nights of recent years. All movies start at 7pm.

Starlight Cinema, which is part of the Toronto International Film Festival (TIFF) film circuit, is proudly sponsored in part by the Stouffville Free Press.
