What is Critical Illness and Long Term Care?

How Can I Protect Myself?

- Too many people assume our health care system will pay all their expenses if they become critically ill.
- Did you know some drugs are not covered?
- Did you know additional expenses like travel, day care and home care may not be covered?
- Do you have readily available funds to cover additional expenses if you become critically ill?
- Do you have readily available funds to seek medical treatment outside Canada, if you were put on a waiting list for treatment?

Most people will do what they can to preserve their health at any cost. If that cost included borrowing money from your RRSP, what would become of your retirement savings? In some cases you could seriously deplete your savings or go into debt.

Frank May of Investors Group is pleased to sponsor an evening of discussion with two of the industries experts in Critical Illness and Long Term Care.
