

New Stouffville secondary school set to open Sept. 2007

After 50 years of service, the present Stouffville high school building is slated to close in 2007 to make way for a state of the art facility just south of Main Street and west of Ninth Line.

"The new Stouffville District Secondary School will offer a full range of high school instruction for the estimated 1,500 students in Grades 9 to 12 who will be living in the area within the next few years," said Dr. Ralph Benson, superintendent of planning for York Region District School Board. The current building, which accommodates 900 students, is already operating at capacity and preliminary planning for the new facility has been underway for five years.

"I am very excited about the opportunity to open a new school in a growing York Region community," noted Arlene Smith, who takes over from Tony Lewis as SDSS principal in September.

"We will be keeping residents fully informed as we proceed with the development of the new Stouffville District Secondary School."

Cool shades, dude! Samantha Stronach, 3, hams it up for the camera as her one-year-old twin sisters Abigail (front) and Jessica relax in their stroller in Clock Tower square. The trio were in town for a visit with their grandparents, David and Sandra Stronach.
