1959 - Today

Many people have moved to Stouffville to enjoy the friendly atmosphere that only a small town offers where friends are neighbours.

One of your oldest neighbours in town has been on the corner of Main Street and Fairview Ave. for 44 years not only looking after automotive needs of the community, but supporting it through donations and sponsorships of local events.

Giles Chevrolet Oldsmobile started as a small family business in 1959 by the late J. Ross Giles who owned and operated it until 1983 when he past it on to his son Duncan Giles that is the present owner and operator with the help from sons Mark and Robert Giles.

Treating Customers as family has been the secret to our success. Together with our professional and well trained staff we can handle any of your automotive needs. So come in and see why we say.....

"It's always a Great Day at Giles"

Fred Byer's John Deere Tractor Dealership as it looked in 1949. The Giles family bought the property and it became Giles Chevrolet Oldsmobile in 1959.
