

Salvation Army Elf Tree at Stouffville train station

The Salvation Army's Elf Tree is back at the Stouffville train station and all local donations of toys and gifts will be delivered to needy families at Christmas.

This is the fourth year the BIA has sponsored the project. "Salvation Army representatives told me that teens are often overlooked, with gifts for only young children donated," noted BIA manager Ruth LeBlanc. Teenagers are sometimes difficult to buy for, but gift certificates are always welcome.

Keeping tabs on pop cans

The Stouffville Recycling Depot welcomes donations of aluminum pop can tabs. The tabs are collected and sent to Alcan for use in a program which provides wheelchairs to those in need.

Anyone dropping cans off at the depot is asked to remove the tabs and place them in the special wheelchair container. "Please take the time to collect them and bring them to the depot," said depot volunteer Jim Priebe. St. Nick visits Stouffville daycare

Hailey VanderBurgt was excited when Santa dropped by My First School Daycare on Montreal St. Nov. 19. In addition to getting her picture taken with old Saint Nick she was also able to give him lots of advance notice of those special things she hopes to find under the Christmas tree this year.

Museum receives OMA Award of Merit

Whitchurch-Stouffville Museum Advisory Board and Friends of the Museum received a 2003 Award of Merit from the Ontario Museum Association in recognition of its successful campaign to raise $50,000.

The money will be matched through the Ontario Heritage

Foundation's Heritage Challenge Fund Program to create a $100,000 Building Conservation Endowment Fund to support the future conservation and maintenance of the Museum's six designated historic buildings. Marie Lalonde, executive director of the OMA, presented the award at a Donor Recognition Open House Nov. 5. A beautiful handcrafted donors' quilt, created by staff and volunteers, was unveiled at the event.

More than 1,350 hours of volunteer service were donated to achieve the fundraising goal.
