Club Stag November 19 Bridge - Tresette

This coming Monday the Circolo Colombo anticipates a goodly gathering of club members and their friends at the club's stag. The evening will prove highly entertaining in as much as bridge and tresette are selected as the official card games for the night.

Mixed Bowling

The initial mixed bowling social of the season which was held at the Circolo last Saturday night proved itself most disconcerting in the eyes of the writer. Why so? Well, it is an easy matter to relate but I warn you that in what I am going to say, I am not at all biased.

Were it not for the Question Marks and their respective gentlemen-friends, the affair would not have been. That is the truth! Granted that it was held on a Saturday night! No doubt a very inopportune time to stage such a social! So what? Surely there were many more bowling enthusiasts in our midst who could have spared the evening. What is the use!

The bowling group, comprised of ten couples, was aided by the presence of three rabid bowling fans namely, George Bernard, John Longo and E. De Battista.

We are certain that everyone enjoyed themselves thoroughly. The Circolo wishes to express its gratitude to these young folk whose intention it was to stir up some excitement about the club rooms and keep things moving. They succeeded very nicely. What more can we say?

Monthly Communion

Here is another suggestion that is in a strange locale. Something should or must (whichever suits your frame of mind) be done about it! Of course, it will necessitate strong organization and heaps of co-operation. It has been attempted in the past but, (Be I the one to say so) has never accomplished the proper results. Well, here it is!

The idea is very simple! The difficulty lies in its fulfillment. Why does not the Circolo set aside one Sunday in each month so as the members can assemble and receive monthly communion? Surely it is not asking too much of a Catholic organization to live up to the standards of Catholicism! The writer's aim is not to reform anyone. I want to point out to you just how such an action will benefit us in more than one way. If we were to follow this suggestion, we would undoubtedly elevate the standards and ideals of the club. That in turn would benefit the quality and quantity of prospective members. Now I'm sure that does not far-fetched.

There you have the germ of what

BOWLING NEWS

GAMES WEEK OF NOV. 19

Table with 4 columns: Day, Team 1, vs. Team 2. Rows include Monday Nov. 19th (Pellettiers vs. Tip Tops), Tuesday Nov. 20th (Dizzy Johns vs. Jockey Club), Wednesday Nov. 21st (Eatons vs. Angelo's Hotel), Thursday Nov. 22nd (Standards vs. Columbus Coal).

Things are gradually whipping into shape in the bowling league and we find the three favorites once again at the top of the league. The Jockey Clubs have kept a steady pace but T. H. and B. and John Longo have not reached their bowling of last season. The former has his mind on bridge too much and while about to roll the ball he is trying to figure out if he could have made a game on the last hand at the bridge table.

The big point winners of the week were the Pellettiers who took three from Angelo's Hotel and lost the fourth by a mere three pins. Hannah was the star for the winners with a three game total of 754 but was unfortunate to receive a bad break in the last game which cost his team a defeat. Bernardo duplicated his score with a 754 also. J. Pelletier had a nice single game of 362. The Columbus Coal team and Eatons split the points with the latter team again profiting through the handicap. Neither team bowled exceptionally well though Nickolson rolled 713 for three.

Jockey Club took three from Tip-Tops and poor bowling again predominated. Elia with 666 was the best on both teams. The Tip-Tops started out well but apparently have fallen on evil days. We feel sure, however, that they will soon return to form and make it interesting for all.

The crying need of the alleys is some new bowls. The lack of adequate bowls in the opinion of many is the cause of many poor scores. The revenue from the alleys in the last three years would warrant such an expenditure.

We are pleased to have with us this year an entirely women's league bowling at the club. Aside from the fact that they bring business to the club they also reap the benefit of a healthful indoor exercise which tends to reduce the waist line and give one that "Vim, Vigor and Vitality" feeling. On looking over the sheets we notice that there are quite a few of the Friday nighters of last season but we notice too that the feminine end of the famous bridge club have also joined this group. It would be appropriate at this time to extend a vote of thanks to these girls for their kind assistance and patronage at all the club affairs.

Due to the fact that the names of the girls are only their christian names we can't make much comment on their individual bowling. However as teams the Seven Sisters and Our Pals seem to be the more experienced. The Buzzers seem to have a sprinkling of talent and the Bridge Club are composed of newcomers in this sport. Our old friend Chrissy on the Mastrangelo team is up to her old tricks and again knocked off high single with 226. She also had the highest total with 445. Adele Pellettier had the dubious honor of being the lowest for the evening. It is our intention to write a column weekly for this bowling club and inscribe on the sands of time the deeds and misdeeds of one and every member. We will also publish a weekly standing using the point system as a basis and trust that a lively competition will ensue. To be a little different this year from last we will discard the name "Friday Nighters" and henceforth the league will be known as the "Wildcats Bowling Club".

might be something fine and wholesome. It cannot fail if you give it your support as a loyal Catholic.

Extra! Extra!

For the convenience of its members and their guest-friends, the Circolo has opened a complete lunch room on the second floor of the premises. Service begins on Saturday with full-course meals. The project is bound to be successful for there are countless members who have a yen for a cup of coffee and a piece of pie along about the sixth or seventh bridge game of the night. We wish the chef good fortune!

Random Shots

Pin-boy Lundy has at last met his nemesis. George Bernard simply worries him to death. When they engage in a game of checkers, Lundy is usually the loser. When George is bowling, Lundy prays that George will ease up on his fast ball. George is my pal from now on... Favorite bridge sayings as we hear them... "What a pituit!" - Fat Battaglia... "One more trip!" - Guess who?... "Come on, Mr. Morphy" - Tony Ricco... "Pass" - Nick Perugini. I have seen Nick play bridge many times and not once has he held a hand that could show any game possibilities... Johnny Grieco and J. Garbarino are taking their hunting very seriously...

Social Highlights

What A Week!

What a hectic week! Merriment—tragedy—more merriment, more tragedy! We are thankful that these incidents are passe, for one led directly to the other. I shall not endeavor to resurrect ancient history by explaining the tragic strain of this so-called hectic week. I shall leave that to your better judgment. You all know wherein lies the tragedy. Let me leave this discussion behind! I feel morbid enough! Why court a second helping?

Glad to See You

Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Masiello of Rochester, N. Y. paid one of their periodical visits to Toronto last week-end due to the fact that Armistice Day is celebrated as a legal holiday in the States. Accompanying them on their trip was Dr. L. Rampulla, Varsity dental graduate and former Fratellanza president, who at present is located in Rochester. The Doctor and Mrs. were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Piccinini last Sunday evening. We are certain the couple made good use of their short sojourn.

Sodality Social

They did it once more! Who? What a ridiculous question to ask! I refer to none other than the Children of Mary Sodality girls. I have mentioned on previous occasions that their socials are ever worthy of your attendance and mine. Well, sir, if the gods of fortune did not smile upon them on Wednesday night, then you can truly have me related to Mr. and Mrs. Simian. True to form, the young ladies staged the affair with the ever-present air of refined gusto that is symbolic of their every social. We wish them more success for future occasions.

Surprise!!

Last Sunday Paul Grieco entertained a group of very dashing colonialites at his home on Beverly Street. The event served to honor Dr. L. Rampulla who was fortunate to be present in Toronto over the week-end. Grieco's qualities as a host were most admirably respected. Needless to say, the entire assemblage revelled in his hospitality. The real high-spot of the occasion was Ab Pellettier's vaudevillian aspirations. You all know Ab as bowling scribe for the paper. His rendition of that Spanish ditty, "Won't Someone Buy My Violets" was unique. Moreover, his classic tangoing was something to marvel at. (Can it be that Marjory Lobraico has given him a lesson or two? She's a clever little dancer, you know!) However, the crowd could not begrudge Mr. Pellettier a hearty laugh—or even a casual giggle.

Ladies' Bowling

The Ladies' Bowling League is now in full progress. The teams comprising the league seem to be somewhat evenly matched. This indicates a last minute struggle for league honors at the end of the season. One must not overlook Kay Mazza's group of stellar bowlers. They have what is commonly known as punch—a much needed quality when a team is in a pinch. They demonstrated this quality last Friday night against the Seven Sisters team, powerful group of bowlers. Kay's team might have lost more points were it not for this do-or-die quality. The Seven Sisters team is comprised of Mr. and Mrs. Mastrangelo's daughters. Chris seems to be a consistently good bowler. As for other stellar bowlers, Val Perill, Lena Costabile, Eva Romanelli and Ann Lobraico do not do too badly. If the ladies continue knocking off high single scores, then I fear that Sam Costabile's high single game of 374 will be cast into oblivion!

Odds and Ends

Frank Abate, chairman of the card committee is confined to his sick-bed with a few minor complications. We wish Frank a speedy recovery... Will Tommy Scandifio care to explain what his west-end attraction was on Saturday night, bringing him home so early on a Sunday morning?... Miss Mildred Bernard, popular Sodality member and prominent colonialite, is very steadily recuperating from a sinus operation... Ditto for Flavio Busca-Belfanti who has returned from the hospital... "Fat" Battaglia is considered the official spaghetti tester at home. Not one spot of "macs" is served unless he puts the final O. K. on it. He could make a swell tie-up with Angelo's. "Fat" is very ceremonious about his job... We have yet to hear from the D. O. S. S. What can the trouble be? Are they no longer in circulation? Let's hear from you, girls... Did you notice the new Hudson sedan Sal Bernard drove to mass with last Sunday?... Credit one of our well-known colonialites good and proper for being part and parcel of Toronto's latest and most exclusive social rendezvous. We understand it to be one of the smartest cabarets in town. His name? Cori Miceli... Somehow or other the cigar craze has taken its toll upon J. "Jazz-Age" Pellettier. What a pity!... Dropped in on Phil Pizzola recently. Said he spent a marvellous honeymoon and wished you were there.

Bridge and Scopa

True to my prediction, the second card social of the season was a huge success. The committee was pleased to note such an increase in the attendance on Monday night and hopes that it will continue for the remainder of the season. The prizes awarded for the evening were once again received with great enthusiasm. In bridge, Mrs. E. De Rose walked off with ladies' first to be rewarded with a beautiful silver pie plate. The same article was awarded Mrs. M. Dinorcia who finished ahead of the rest in scopa. The draw prize for the women went to Mrs. Leo Romanelli.

In the men's bridge, Eddie Pellettier finished first and received a smart ash tray. Tony Battaglia, winner of the men's scopa, received a prize of similar nature. "Fat" Battaglia very cheerfully stepped to the fore to be presented with a novelty cigarette lighter as winner of the men's draw.

After the distribution of prizes and even when the games were still in progress, the customary refreshments were served. Incidentally, the guests were well pleased with the decided change in the quality of the coffee. As a farewell thought, the committee hopes to have the pleasure of your support at their next social which will be held on Monday November 26th. Remember the date!

A SUGGESTION

We have had a snooker tournament and a bowling tournament to find the champion of the Club so now we should have a bridge tournament to find a worthy team of "Culbertsons" It could be run on the same principle as the bowling tournament by having a certain number of teams formed and each team plays every other team either one, two or three times. Each time would be composed of four hands played. The games could be scheduled for Sunday afternoon and the regular fee of 15c an hour would be charged for each table. The members could then put up a small amount each which would go into a pool for the winning team. To insure a fair-sized crowd it could be arranged to allow a member to choose another member as a partner or else get a non-member.
