

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE

Mrs. Eckis Stenson of Salt Lake City Tel How Operations For Ovarian Troubles May Be Avoided

DEAR MRS. PHOENIX:—I suffered with inflammation of the ovaries and womb for over six years, enduring aches and pains which no man could dream of but those who have it the same experience.

MRS. ECKIS STENSON writes to the doctor and the druggist. I was simply a walking medicine chest and a physical wreck. After residing in Ohio I wrote me that I had been cured of womb trouble by using Lydia E. Pinkham's vegetable Compound, and asked me to try it. I then discontinued all other medicines and gave your Vegetable Compound a thorough trial. Within four weeks I was nearly all right. I rarely had headaches, my nerves were in a much better condition, and I was cured in three months, and this avoided a terrible surgical operation.

Remember very woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

THEIR MAIDEN SPEECHES

FIRST EFFORTS OF FAMOUS PARLIAMENTARIANS.

Noted Members Who Made Unpromising Beginnings—Disraeli's Failure—One Successful Maiden Speech.

One night early in 1833 (the year after he had failed in his contest as a radical for the borough of High Wycombe), Benjamin Disraeli, sitting in the strangers' gallery in the house of commons, listened to the debate on the address, in which Lord John Russell, Macaulay, Stanley, Bulwer and other leading members of the house took part. Next morning he wrote to his sister: "Was at the house of commons yesterday during the whole of the debate—one of the finest we have had for years. Macaulay was admirable, but, between ourselves, I could floor them all. This entire row, I was never more carried away by anything than I could carry everything before me in that house. The time will come."

The time did come, four years later, when, on Dec. 7th, 1837, Disraeli, having been returned as a Tory, stood up in the house of commons to make his maiden speech. The story of that historic fiasco has never been fully told. What is generally known is that Disraeli was interrupted by bursts of ironical laughter, almost from the beginning of his speech, and that at length, utterly unable to catch the ear of the house, he concluded by shouting at the utmost pitch of his voice, the famous phrase: "Though I sit down, the time will come when you will hear me."

Disraeli's failure on this occasion was not due to nervous timidity, but to the less amiable fault of over-confidence. Due to the young member's self-assurance of manner, inspired, obviously, by the conviction that he was about to leap into parliamentary fame at a single bound. This, with his feeble attempt at a maiden speech, and the knowledge of his rapid change of political opinions, caused the British radicals and the Irish repeaters, both led by the lusty lungs of O'Connell, to indulge in roars of ironical laughter and other disconcerting remarks.

CANADA CONGRATULATED.

British Press Declares Our Progress to be Remarkable.

London, Jan. 2.—Canada is congratulated on its progress which she has exhibited during the last year. The fact that she has deposited in Canadian banks about four hundred million dollars, considered remarkable, and the fact that she looks to the time when she will have the whole of the British Empire under her dominion, but so to the welfare of the empire as a whole. Its solution would be facilitated by the conspicuous loyalty of Canada, whereof so many examples have recently been afforded.

The Kingston Press has been doing work for the benefit of Canada. This money is being sent to the Kingston merchants and merchants. Salt water cures: Carnovsky's.
