CRIED WHEN DISMISSED.

Subordinates Failed to Salute When He Passed.

New York, Jan. 3.—Deputy commissioner of police, W. S. Devery, received a severe rebuff on retiring from office yesterday. "I want to state that I am ready to perform any duty you may assign me as a member of the uniformed force of police," Devery said to Col. Partridge, the new commissioner. "I have nothing for you to do," Col. Partridge replied. "These words mayor Low's new head of the police department waved aside Devery, who left the building crying like a child. "Lend me your handkerchief, Sargent," he said to the sergeant, as he appeared in the corridor after he had been dismissed. Sargent handed over a large silk handkerchief, which Devery applied to his eyes when he left the building, where he had ruled so long. Those who formerly trembled at his very look, failed to salute him as he passed.

TALKING OF A COMBINE

Between Several Important Shipping Concerns.

SPLITTING UP THE TROOPS.

THE CANADIANS IN SOUTH AFRICA ARE DISSATISFIED.

Letters from the men in Baden Powell's Constabulary show that there is trouble in the ranks—Gold Braid Must Go.

London, Jan. 3.—The always interesting topic of American absorption of English shipping again crops up in the form of a rumor that P. Morgan is acting as the agent to effect a combination of the American and Leyland lines. The Daily Express, responsible for the rumor, admits that it cannot be confirmed.

The war office authorities have decided to prohibit the use of all useless ornaments on officers' uniforms. No gold lace will be permitted on uniforms and belts. Straps and swords will also have to disappear. The only distinctive mark between officers and men will be the shoulder decorations.

The Daily Express says that letters from Canadians at the front who have joined Baden-Powell's constabulary, show that there is great dissatisfaction among the men on account of the Canadian troops being split up.

In a despatch to Times from Valparaiso it is announced, on good authority, that the protocol, which Senor Portela, the Argentine minister, took to Buenos Ayres has been accepted by Argentina, and that the Chilean reserves have been ordered to the front.

The Tablet announces, as a matter of the profoundest interest to the whole christian world, that the pope has appointed a special pontifical commission to consider all questions connected with the biblical studies. Catholic scholars throughout the world will have the fullest opportunity of stating their views and difficulties, bringing them before the direct notice of the holy see. Cardinal Parodi, dean of the sacred college, is president of the commission, and cardinal Segna, prefect of the Vatican archives and cardinal Vives y Tuto, assessors. There will also be several consultants chosen from different countries.

Rev. Joseph Parker's sermon, at the City Temple, yesterday, was devoted to New Year's messages to King Edward, president Roosevelt, to Australia, Canada, and the lord mayor of London. Dr. Parker said King Edward was not the king of one church, of one sect, or of one nation, but of one of our world, of the whole people. At this point, the reverend clergyman, who spoke for the day, said that the king and president Roosevelt, whose crown glittered with diamonds of the people's personal love and loyalty, would remember the friends of the slave, who show indignation at British imperialism in South Africa and yet approve and encourage the scandalous oppression of the Poles. The latter are exhorted to seek protection and economic independence in social democracy.

It is understood that kind Edward will be compelled, much against his wish, to ask parliament for a grant towards the queen Victoria memorial, purpose would be raised by public subscription, has not been realized, as only $185,400 has been thus far subscribed, and this sum will not nearly suffice.

A rumor was current in this city today to the effect that an attempt had been made to assassinate Lord Milner, the British high commissioner in South Africa. The rumor, however, was unconfirmed and was discredited in responsible quarters.

HAVE FRENCH-CANADIAN As a Member of The Cabinet if Whitney Wins.

Ottawa, Jan. 3.—Mr. Falconio, the apostolic delegate, accompanied by his English secretary, Rev. Father Schieller, will leave to-night for Chicago, where he will be present with cardinal Martinielli, at the dedication ceremonies of the new church of Our Lady of Sorrows, on Jackson boulevard.

The apostolic delegate will return in about a week.

N. A. Belcourt, M.P., returned today from England, where he has been on a visit. He speaks enthusiastically of the way he was welcomed by the English.

It is announced by a prominent French-Canadian politician that J. P. Whitney, leader of the Ontario opposition, has promised to have a French-Canadian minister in his cabinet if he is elected leader of the government in the next provincial elections.

Murdered and Robbed.

Litchfield, Minn., Jan. 3.—The authorities here are now firmly convinced that Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gordon, who were found buried to death in their home on Wednesday night were murdered. Gordon was very wealthy and the authorities claim to have evidence that a double murder was committed for the purpose of robbery.

Monte Carlo is extremely crowded. The Casino is doing an enormous business. It is stated that its profits on December 28th were $55,000.

The ministerial association, Winnipeg, is about to enter upon a crusade to abolish the social evil in the city. Letters are being sent to the chiefs of police and other persons in authority in nearly every city in Canada, asking advice as to the best methods to pursue.

WHAT SIR E. CREEAN SAYS

IRISH QUESTION DECLARED TO BE SERIOUS.

London, Jan. 3.—A telegram from Dublin to the Times says John Redmond, M.P., speaking at a national demonstration in county Sligo, said that if the government postponed the Irish land legislation until 1903, he would not be sorry because the interval would be used to raise such a flame in Ireland that all remnants of landlordism would be burned to ashes. A telegram from Cork to the Times says that in speaking at a meeting of the local branch of the United Irish league, Sir Eugene Creehan, M.P., referred to King Edward's expected visit to Ireland and said that the king came to Cork they would hunt him through the streets as they did before.

The Times, in a leading article on its Dublin correspondent's survey of the situation in Ireland, declares that, although the unionist government, with a big majority, has been in power for six years, the situation there is now worse than when Mr. Morley resigned the chief secretaryship in 1895. In short, says the Times, the policy of "killing home rule with kindness" is completely discredited, and Mr. Wyndham has failed to realize the hopes formed by him when he was appointed chief secretary.

GRAVE AVOIDED.

Killed Nine Wives—Feared Neither Man Nor Spirit.

Guthrie, O.T., Jan. 3.—Near the Sac and Fox agency in this territory is a spot avoided by the Indians of those tribes because of a superstitious belief. It is a grave and this is the story:

The Sac and Fox tribes were cursed with a genuine Blue beard or squaw killer about twenty-five years ago. The monster's name was Nonochke (Lightning Flash). He was dreaded and feared by every member of the united nation of the Sac and Foxes. He killed not less than nine of his wives. Nonochke never captured a wife by hunting or coaxing; he simply took them by sheer force or intimidation. He feared neither man nor the great spirit, but behaved like a regular savage anarchist. The Indian squaw killer always appeared in a white coat and carried a gun in a war paint and he was nearly continually on the warpath. Lightning Flash was generally regarded as the Mochoe Manitou (devil) in human form.

There was great rejoicing when the redskin Bluebeard was dead, and even his nearest relatives simply cried for joy. His carcass was buried among a lonely cluster of black-jacks, about one-half mile south of the Sac and Fox agency. The four Indians who buried the most brutal of all brutal savages were blinded while they put the remains of the expert squaw killer under the ground. It is said that for superstitious reasons no member of the Sac and Fox nation ever visited Nonochke's grave. Even the Indian ponies are not allowed to graze near the wretch's last resting place. The old Sac and Foxes seldom mention his name, believing that the evil spirit of Lightning Flash might haunt and torment them.

NO NEWS RECEIVED.

That Corporal Dawson Had Been Killed.

Toronto, Jan. 3.—A cable from Pretoria, published yesterday, announcing that Corporal Dawson had been killed while doing scouting duty near Carnarvon, South Africa, has caused great anxiety to the friends in Toronto of trooper William Dawson, who went out with the South African contingent, enlisted last March. Enquiry at the militia department, Ottawa, showed that there had been no news received there of the Toronto man's death.

Principal James Mills, of the Ontario agricultural college, Guelph, left for the United States to-day, accompanied by M. Miller, architect of this city, to inspect various domestic science institutions with a view to obtaining ideas for the buildings to be erected under the endowment recently contributed by Sir William McDonald.

WEYLER'S LATEST.

He Wants to Prevent His Son's Marriage.

Madrid, Jan. 3.—In order, it is believed, to hinder his son's marriage Gen. Weyler has invented a new trophy which forbids the marriage of army officers, who are not yet twenty-five years of age. This bars the son of the famous captain-general for some time to come. The father of Gen. Weyler's son, marquis Comandante De Lasa, is very lively, and is related to the marquis De Lasa and Fevra Lavega, the marquis De Perina and Comde De Val and Delaguia. People are indignant over the measure. It is claimed that it is calculated to encourage immorality.

They Were Starved To Death—Property Burned.

Vienna, Jan. 3.—A mob headed by three land owners recently massacred fourteen Jews in Zuzieda, Galicia. They dragged the victims out of their houses and then stoned them to death. A Jewish school was the first to be killed and the Jews were the last. The property of the Jews was then burned.

The ring leaders of the mob have been arrested.

TORONTO MAYORALTY.

The Betting so Far Favors Mayor Howland.

Toronto, Jan. 3.—There is some betting on the mayoralty contest. Mayor Howland is favorite over McLean, at 150 to 60; that is the very best price, some bets having been made last night at odds of as low as 100 to 40, on Howland. Woodley, the official candidate, is a 1,000 to 1 shot and no takers. One prominent local bookmaker offers 4 to 5, and take your choice of Howland or McLean, and write your own ticket on Woodley.

A movement has been launched among electrical workers to require the examination and licensing of those engaged in electrical works. The intention is to ask for an optional law and secure its application first to Toronto, and then to the other centres throughout the province.

Rev. Dr. Potts, this morning, received a cheque for $100,000 from the Hart A. Massey estate, university. The sum is part of the residue of the estate which is now available for public bequests.

DONE TO DEFAUD.

Arson Resorted to to Secure Insurance Money.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—John Rominski, a tandy maker, has confessed that he had been identified with a conspiracy to defraud fire insurance companies. The burning of three buildings in Chicago within six months, damage amounting to thousands of dollars, his own disfigurement for life by an explosion of gasoline while starting a fire, and the collection of $1,000, took place while this conspiracy was being carried out. In his confession he implicates four others.

A UNIQUE GIFT.

Minister of Militia Presented With A Horse.

Ottawa, Jan. 3.—The minister of militia has been presented with one of the shoes worn by the charger which carried the Prince of Wales when the latter was in Canada in September. The shoe, which is silver plated and bears a suitable inscription, was the gift of Col. Pellatt, of the Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto. The charger is owned by the colonel and Dr. Borden is much pleased with his gift.

Damaged By Fire.

Brat Portage, Ont., Jan. 3.—Fire broke out here at 12:30 o'clock this morning, in the drug store of G. H. Hall & Co. It started in a cellar and soon the whole building was in flames. Things looked very serious for a while for several other blocks, but the firemen managed to confine the fire to A. Carmichael's two blocks. White & Manahan's block was damaged and some of their stock destroyed. Other losses here, Dr. Marshall, dental office and contents destroyed; James Courtney, billiard parlor badly damaged by smoke and water; James Cross, barber shop gutted; Dr. Schnarr, dentist office and furniture badly damaged; A. Carmichael, office and furniture damaged. The third floor of this block was occupied by the masonic hall. Dr. Chapman's apartments over White & Manahan's were badly damaged.

A Legal Point.

There is a legal point involved as to the status of George Sears. Can he take his seat in the council prior to the acceptance of his resignation as school trustee? His election as a trustee has been declared and his name will be sent forward by the city clerk to the secretary of the board of education. This will be read at the first meeting of the board, occurring in February, when his resignation can be read and a new election ordered. Until that time Mr. Sears will be a member of the board elect for 1902. This being so can he take his seat at the council?

When Was Riot Act Read.

Two venerable citizens had a lengthy argument on the market square this morning over the question as to when the riot act was last read in Kingston. The younger man claimed that it was in 1859, when the late John Flanagan was mayor, the riot act was read from the steps of the city buildings, corner of Ontario and Brock streets. The older man disputed this date, and maintained that it was twelve years before that that the riot act was last read in Kingston. Whose memory is good enough to set them both right?

Accurately Measured.

After nearly thirty years of constant effort and the expenditure of nearly $2,000,000, scientists have succeeded in accurately measuring the earth. They have learned that its diameter through the equator is 7,926 miles; its height from pole to pole, 7,899 miles. The earth, therefore, is flatter at the poles, and while this fact has long been asserted, the actual measurement has removed the question from the domain of doubt.
