

Carpets, Rugs, Linoleums.

Portier Curtains, Lace Curtains and Draperies in exclusive styles and not to be found elsewhere in the city.

We are carrying at this season of the year a very complete stock at prices which appeal to the closest buyer.

In Linoleums we show the largest line to be found and at prices that mean a genuine money-saving to you.

R. McFaul
Kingston Carpet Warehouse.

ORDERED WORK.

Bronzing, Upholstering old Furniture, Boxes, etc., etc. All this class of work will be done cheaper during January and February than at any other time. We keep our full staff of Upholsterers and mechanics employed 12 months in the year. Cady Corners and Window Seats are a specialty here. We will fit any corner or space as you want, at prices to suit. Mattresses done over at short notice.

CARPETS—All the Leading Axminster, Wilton, Velvet, Brussels, Tapestries, etc.

CURTAINS—Lace, Chenille, Silk, Tapestry, etc.

Window Shades and Panels, etc.

Linoleum and Oil Cloth, all widths.

YOURS,
T. F. HARRISON CO.,
UNDERTAKING.
'PHONES—DAY USE, 90.
NIGHTCALLS, 91-92
SUGGESTIONS FOR HOME
BEAUTIFYING.

The popular home art of mat and rug making is developing wonderfully in Canada since the introduction of the Diamond Dyed and Run Patterns. Some of these home producers are remarkable geniuses of feminine skill; they are as handsome as imported rugs and wear much longer. Any lady with a stock of rags, pieces of cloth, flannel or yarn, dyed proper colors with Diamond Dyers, can with one of the new designs in mats or rugs make up a floor ornament at small cost. The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain street, Montreal, Que., will mail free to any address a full range of patterns to select from.

Cook's Cotton Root Compound is successfully used monthly by over one thousand ladies, both official, Ladies of the Church, and laymen. It cures druggists for their own use and prescriptions are dangerous. Price, No. 1, $1 per pint; No. 2, 10 degrees stronger, $2 per pint; No. 3, 20 degrees stronger, $3 per pint. The Cook Company Windsor, Ont.
No. 1 and 2 sold and recommended by all responsible druggists in Canada.

No. 1 and 2 are sold in Kingston by all responsible druggists

10 PER CENT.
REDUCTION
OFF
CARPENTERS' TOOLS.
Ask for Trading Stamps
STRACHAN'S HARDWARE

THE NEW BOARD OF WORKS.

THE MEMBERS MUST ATTEND MEETINGS PROMPTLY.

Chairman McLeod Defines His Policy Regarding Meetings—Two Claims For Damages Considered.

At four o'clock Thursday afternoon the inaugural meeting of the newly-formed board of works convened in the city engineer's office, city buildings.
Those in attendance were Aldo Mc-Lewin, chairman, Walkem, McFarlane, Dunlop.

Before beginning regular business, chairman McLeod addressed his colleagues briefly, expressing the hope that the coming year would be a prosperous one, and that the meetings of the committee would be harmonious and satisfactory. One thing he intended doing, and that was to insist upon punctuality; he could not use the telephone, as all were delayed; the members would be notified in the usual way of the day and hour of meeting, and must abide themselves accordingly.

The committee decided to meet every other Thursday at four o'clock in the afternoon.

The first matter brought up for the board's consideration was the claim of Prof. D. H. Marshall for damages for a fence torn down by boys on Hallowe'en night; the fence had been repaired at an outlay of $25.50 which amount Prof. Marshall asked the city to pay. Upon the advice of the city solicitor, the committee decided upon "no action," as there was no apparent responsibility resting on the city.

Smythe & Lyon, on behalf of William Henley, asked to be recognized for damages caused by the flooding of his premises. Upon motion of Ald.
McLewin, the question was referred to the city solicitor and city engineer.

The committee next took a "whack" at Kill street sewer matter. This matter has been up for consideration off and on, since 1901. The city engineer reviewed the matter, giving the aldermen present all the information in his possession. In accordance with a resolution adopted in November last, he had prepared a statement showing the condition of the sewer and its many branches, the amount of work already done, not paid for, sizes of sewers, the skill, not, etc. The total capital expenditure should be $169,82, which, if committed, would mean that there is now due the city $4,244.48. It was a doubtful question whether or not sewers for more than six years back could be collected. The report pointed out that difficulties other sewers and their branches were doubtful in a similar condition.

Chairman McLeod considered the matter one of great importance, and should be carefully looked into.

Upon resolution of Ald. McFarlane, the matter was referred to the city solicitor for report as to the possibility of collecting back rentals, and what steps should be taken, etc.

The question of purchasing two new street sprinkling wagons was left over for future consideration.

The city engineer submitted a report touching the cost of Kingston and Brock street's sewers. Upon motion of Ald. Dunlop, the board decided to recommend to council that a meeting of the court of revision be summoned to confirm the assessment.

At the next meeting of the board, the question of estimates will be taken up.

A Good Thing.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Bosche, a celebrated German physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in medicine. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all lung trouble of the severest nature, rendering, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the patient in strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of time, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Bos-che's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75c.

A Popular Lotion.

A. J. Small, lessee of the Grand opera house, was well pleased with the large attendance last evening. "By the 22nd inst., when 'The Belle of New York' is played here," he said last night, "the carpets will be in place and everything in ship-shape. The fine red velvet carpet and the other improvements will make the house look more finished and comfortable." On the 23rd Miss Sarah Cowell MacMyn, a very popular actress, will appear here for the first time in "The First Duchess of Marlborough."

Though Mr. Small has not the theatre-going public of Kingston but twice, he has made himself very popular by his courteous manner and his desire to oblige. He is wide awake to the public interests, and is giving them a first class service.

Tendered A Reception.

Last evening the members of Victoria guild, Cooke's Presbyterian church, tendered a reception to the students of Queen's university. The affair took place in the lecture rooms in rear of the church and was largely attended.
Music was provided for the social programme by Mrs. Laird, Misses Walker and Priscilla Sixtus. "Topics" were arranged for friendly discussion.
During the evening dainty refreshments were served.

Warning.

Take warning that exactly at 10:30 p.m. Saturday, in the illuminated clock on the city building, the door of the Eureka shoe store will be closed and the great discount sale will end.

Men's heavy ulsters, $2 off each Grand Union.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Wishing Him Well.

Kingston, Jan. 16.—To the Editor: May blessings rest on Hon. William Hart for the good work he has done for Kingston. May he enjoy good health and be spared to represent us in the house of commons. May we have all the comforts this world can afford for the benefit he has already bestowed for the old limestone city.

ADMIRER.

Mr. Simmons Explains.

Kingston, Jan. 17.—To the Editor: The following item is from the columns of the Kingston Daily News "Alfred Simmons, deputy returning officer at No. 22, L to Z, Victoria street, would not allow subscriber James Dennison in the booth after five o'clock, although Dennison had a properly-signed certificate which admitted him. He should explain this conduct."

In the first place I was not deputy returning officer at No. 22, but rather the deputy at No. 22a. In the second place, if Mr. Dennison's "conduct" had been as regular as mine he would not now have any cause for complaint. It is not that I consider that I make the following explanation:

At five o'clock I ordered the constable
on duty in the polling booth
to lock the door and keep it locked until such time as I had counted the ballots. I did not open the door after five o'clock, until I had counted the ballots. I determined to follow out
the principle of this order, and therefore paid no attention to the knock at
the door.

At the first place I was not
deputy returning officer at No. 22, but
rather the deputy at No. 22a. In the
second place, if Mr. Dennison's "con-
duct" had been as regular as mine he
would not now have any cause for
complaint. It is not that I consider
that I make the following explana-
tion:

At five o'clock I ordered the constable
on duty in the polling booth
to lock the door and keep it locked
until such time as I had counted the
ballots. I did not open the door after
five o'clock, until I had counted the
ballots. I determined to follow out
the principle of this order, and therefore
paid no attention to the knock at
the door.

At the first place I was not
deputy returning officer at No. 22, but
rather the deputy at No. 22a. In the
second place, if Mr. Dennison's "con-
duct" had been as regular as mine he
would not now have any cause for
complaint. It is not that I consider
that I make the following explana-
tion:

At five o'clock I ordered the constable
on duty in the polling booth
to lock the door and keep it locked
until such time as I had counted the
ballots. I did not open the door after
five o'clock, until I had counted the
ballots. I determined to follow out
the principle of this order, and therefore
paid no attention to the knock at
the door.

At the first place I was not
deputy returning officer at No. 22, but
rather the deputy at No. 22a. In the
second place, if Mr. Dennison's "con-
duct" had been as regular as mine he
would not now have any cause for
complaint. It is not that I consider
that I make the following explana-
tion:

At five o'clock I ordered the constable
on duty in the polling booth
to lock the door and keep it locked
until such time as I had counted the
ballots. I did not open the door after
five o'clock, until I had counted the
ballots. I determined to follow out
the principle of this order, and therefore
paid no attention to the knock at
the door.

At the first place I was not
deputy returning officer at No. 22, but
rather the deputy at No. 22a. In the
second place, if Mr. Dennison's "con-
duct" had been as regular as mine he
would not now have any cause for
complaint. It is not that I consider
that I make the following explana-
tion:

At five o'clock I ordered the constable
on duty in the polling booth
to lock the door and keep it locked
until such time as I had counted the
ballots. I did not open the door after
five o'clock, until I had counted the
ballots. I determined to follow out
the principle of this order, and therefore
paid no attention to the knock at
the door.

At the first place I was not
deputy returning officer at No. 22, but
rather the deputy at No. 22a. In the
second place, if Mr. Dennison's "con-
duct" had been as regular as mine he
would not now have any cause for
complaint. It is not that I consider
that I make the following explana-
tion:

At five o'clock I ordered the constable
on duty in the polling booth
to lock the door and keep it locked
until such time as I had counted the
ballots. I did not open the door after
five o'clock, until I had counted the
ballots. I determined to follow out
the principle of this order, and therefore
paid no attention to the knock at
the door.

At the first place I was not
deputy returning officer at No. 22, but
rather the deputy at No. 22a. In the
second place, if Mr. Dennison's "con-
duct" had been as regular as mine he
would not now have any cause for
complaint. It is not that I consider
that I make the following explana-
tion:

At five o'clock I ordered the constable
on duty in the polling booth
to lock the door and keep it locked
until such time as I had counted the
ballots. I did not open the door after
five o'clock, until I had counted the
ballots. I determined to follow out
the principle of this order, and therefore
paid no attention to the knock at
the door.

At the first place I was not
deputy returning officer at No. 22, but
rather the deputy at No. 22a. In the
second place, if Mr. Dennison's "con-
duct" had been as regular as mine he
would not now have any cause for
complaint. It is not that I consider
that I make the following explana-
tion:

At five o'clock I ordered the constable
on duty in the polling booth
to lock the door and keep it locked
until such time as I had counted the
ballots. I did not open the door after
five o'clock, until I had counted the
ballots. I determined to follow out
the principle of this order, and therefore
paid no attention to the knock at
the door.

At the first place I was not
deputy returning officer at No. 22, but
rather the deputy at No. 22a. In the
second place, if Mr. Dennison's "con-
duct" had been as regular as mine he
would not now have any cause for
complaint. It is not that I consider
that I make the following explana-
tion:

At five o'clock I ordered the constable
on duty in the polling booth
to lock the door and keep it locked
until such time as I had counted the
ballots. I did not open the door after
five o'clock, until I had counted the
ballots. I determined to follow out
the principle of this order, and therefore
paid no attention to the knock at
the door.

At the first place I was not
deputy returning officer at No. 22, but
rather the deputy at No. 22a. In the
second place, if Mr. Dennison's "con-
duct" had been as regular as mine he
would not now have any cause for
complaint. It is not that I consider
that I make the following explana-
tion:

At five o'clock I ordered the constable
on duty in the polling booth
to lock the door and keep it locked
until such time as I had counted the
ballots. I did not open the door after
five o'clock, until I had counted the
ballots. I determined to follow out
the principle of this order, and therefore
paid no attention to the knock at
the door.

At the first place I was not
deputy returning officer at No. 22, but
rather the deputy at No. 22a. In the
second place, if Mr. Dennison's "con-
duct" had been as regular as mine he
would not now have any cause for
complaint. It is not that I consider
that I make the following explana-
tion:

At five o'clock I ordered the constable
on duty in the polling booth
to lock the door and keep it locked
until such time as I had counted the
ballots. I did not open the door after
five o'clock, until I had counted the
ballots. I determined to follow out
the principle of this order, and therefore
paid no attention to the knock at
the door.

At the first place I was not
deputy returning officer at No. 22, but
rather the deputy at No. 22a. In the
second place, if Mr. Dennison's "con-
duct" had been as regular as mine he
would not now have any cause for
complaint. It is not that I consider
that I make the following explana-
tion:

At five o'clock I ordered the constable
on duty in the polling booth
to lock the door and keep it locked
until such time as I had counted the
ballots. I did not open the door after
five o'clock, until I had counted the
ballots. I determined to follow out
the principle of this order, and therefore
paid no attention to the knock at
the door.

At the first place I was not
deputy returning officer at No. 22, but
rather the deputy at No. 22a. In the
second place, if Mr. Dennison's "con-
duct" had been as regular as mine he
would not now have any cause for
complaint. It is not that I consider
that I make the following explana-
tion:

At five o'clock I ordered the constable
on duty in the polling booth
to lock the door and keep it locked
until such time as I had counted the
ballots. I did not open the door after
five o'clock, until I had counted the
ballots. I determined to follow out
the principle of this order, and therefore
paid no attention to the knock at
the door.

At the first place I was not
deputy returning officer at No. 22, but
rather the deputy at No. 22a. In the
second place, if Mr. Dennison's "con-
duct" had been as regular as mine he
would not now have any cause for
complaint. It is not that I consider
that I make the following explana-
tion:

At five o'clock I ordered the constable
on duty in the polling booth
to lock the door and keep it locked
until such time as I had counted the
ballots. I did not open the door after
five o'clock, until I had counted the
ballots. I determined to follow out
the principle of this order, and therefore
paid no attention to the knock at
the door.

At the first place I was not
deputy returning officer at No. 22, but
rather the deputy at No. 22a. In the
second place, if Mr. Dennison's "con-
duct" had been as regular as mine he
would not now have any cause for
complaint. It is not that I consider
that I make the following explana-
tion