EPWORTH LEAGUE SUNDAY.

SPECIAL SERVICES IN SYDEN. HAM STREET CHURCH.

Rev. A. C. Crews, Toronto, General Secretary of the Societies, and Rev. George Clendinnen, Brockville, Were the Speakers -The Value of Christian En-

Yesterday was "Epworth League Sunday" in the Sydenham street Me thodist church, and to mark the event special services were held. These were attended by large congregations both forning and evening. Spetial reference the aim being to impress upon the forts and to raise money to carry or terday, which were liberal, will b handed over to the league connected with the church.

The morning's sermon was by Rev

That our sons may be as plant daughters may be as cornerstones, palace." The speaker enlarged or the suggested comparison between youth and a growing tree. The pow ers of both were expanding and in In Linoleums we show creasing. The tree received nourish ment from the roots, and this the largest line to be found spread to its smallest and most re mote parts. So with a young man have the inner - life of Christ shin genuine money-saving to through him, thus making the perfect man. The speaker's attention was mostly given to endeavorers and then work. Their motto: "Look up, lif up," meant a great deal. The former s synonymous with prayer; the lat ter, with work, "Lift up" also cant to persevere, to do and to keep ing. Always say "do": there is no ach word as "don't." In the Metho dist churches of the world to-day there are 5,000,000 young people, who are identified with the Epworth league of christian endeavor. They were doing a great and a good work, which the people should recognize and encourage. The address was listened to with much satisfaction and profit. In the afternoon Mr. Crews gave brief talk to the children of the Sab bath school. In the evening Rev. George Clendin nen, of Brockville, preached a clear and convincing sermon dealing with the responsibility of service in this world. His text was found in Colossians iv, 17, "And say to Archippus take heed to the ministry which thou has received in the Lord, that thou alfil it." Paul wrote in this way, said the speaker, because of the youth and inexperience of this man, of whom little is known. This message, as part large if the new testament, is also intended for us. Every man and every woman has a ministry in the Lord. unction to fulfil, a trust imposed hem. We cannot cut ourselves of from relationship with others; annot disentangle the thread of CARPETS-All the Leading Axminsters, life from the meshes of other lives. God has a plan of our life. Let and follow it is our noblest ideal. Our life should be of service to others. this it should be like Christ's, Whose service was of the highest rank and widest reach. In young people's societies, like the Epworth leagues, we need those who will bring high talent to the office, who will put all nergy they are capable of into work. Devotion, fidelity, concentration of power, should be theirs. They should do their duty-should "take heed to the ministry.

At the morning service Miss Elled Perley sang very sweetly the solo "The Way of Peace." In the evening Arthur Craig sang in his usual good oice, "Lord of the Night." The an thems were also especially well ren-

Ghouls Will be Placed Behind Prison Bars.

The directors of St. Mary's cemetery do not agree with government letective Murray that the body of Mrs. Hughes was taken through the door, and that the thieves must have secured keys. Yesterday, two experts carefully examined the vault window, and concluded that the body certainly could have been pulled through the opening, although it was not very

Though detective Murray has completed his survey, the matter will not rest many hours. Scouts are hot on the trail of the robbers. The cemetery authorities are bringing to Kingston another detective, one of Canada's best, and he will be authorized to bring the vault desecrators to justice. Nothing less than the recovery of the corpses and the placing of the culprits behind prison bars will satisfy the friends of the dead and the emetery authorities. Before the week is out, it is expected that Kingston will have the sensation of the year.

A special sentry, - fully armed, has now been located in the cemetery, near the vanit. Hereafter no one will be allowed in the cemetery, between five o'clock in the afternoon and seven o'clock in the morning, unless by special permit.
