IRISHMEN START LAND WAR

FORMER PLAN OF CAMPAIGN BEING REVIVED.

Boycotting is rampant—Writes and Ejection Notices Served Broadcast on Tenants on Estates in Several Counties.

London, Jan. 20.—A conflict of a very serious character is in progress between the landlords and tenants of twenty estates in Ireland.

There is a cluster of estates in the counties of Sligo, Mayo, and Roscommon in which the tenants have taken up a very determined attitude.

A combination on the lines of the plan of campaign has been formed, and the tenants are collecting funds to sustain them in the fight.

It is stated that they have a guarantee of financial aid from the United Irish League.

Managers, agents and ejection notices have been served broadcast on the tenants of the affected properties.

As the tenants declare that they will take no notice of any notices to quit, it is likely that evictions on a large scale will take place when the legal process ripens.

Organizers are going about the country encouraging them to resist the landlords.

Outside Connacht, there are disputes in several estates in Clare, Limerick, and Cavan.

The boycotting of "land grabbers," and those who take grazing land, together with the landlords and agents of the disturbed estates, is advocated in the most extreme manner.

The law, in fact, is openly and brazenly defied.

Death of Mrs. Staley. On Sunday morning, at her son's residence, the death occurred of Dolphina, widow of the late Capt. Martin Staley.

Her illness which was of short duration, was borne with Christian fortitude and patience.

All her loving hands could do to relieve her sufferings was done, but of no avail.

Decided in her early married life, she resided with her husband on Wolfe Island, after moving to Kingston.

where they conducted an hotel for a number of years. Her husband predeceased her to the grave nine years.

She leaves four sons and one daughter to mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday morning at nine o'clock at St. Mary's cathedral, and cemetery.

A Pleasant Box Social. On Friday evening last Miss Lizzie Daily entertained the members of her club and their friends in a "box social" in the Whig hall.

About ninety young people were in attendance and spent a most enjoyable evening.

Musical for dancing was supplied by the late Carr's orchestra, and of such an excellent quality that almost every number called for an encore.

Of course, the amusing feature at a social of this kind is the distribution of the dainty boxes of eatables, each bearing a number.

Mr. Polson has the matter under advisement. At this juncture when so many vital questions must come before the council for argument and settlement.

Mr. Polson's opinion, based on long experience in council matters, would be invaluable to the city. He formerly represented Rideau ward in the council.

High Court of Justice. Expanded metal and fireproofing company vs. Clarified milk company.

Kingston. J. J. MacLennan, for defendants, moved to change venue from the city of Kingston to Falconbridge, for plaintiffs, contra.

Order made changing venue to Kingston. Defendants to pay to plaintiffs all costs lost to plaintiffs by reason of delay in making this motion.

Marked Out The Ice. City commissioner Gordon and medical health officer Fes to-day marked out the space of ice in the river which Messrs. Wilson and Cleason, ice dealers, will be allowed to harvest their supply.

This morning Andrew McLean's employees began cutting ice below the bridge.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Manitoba Prohibitionists Active—Western News.

Napina, Man., Jan. 13.—(To the Editor): The people of Napina and vicinity were very much affected by the news that arrived here last week of the death of Robert Leigh.

He had been complaining of a cold for a few days before leaving, and after a few weeks in Ontario died of quick consumption.

The Russell house, vacant for a month, will be opened next week by Arthur Joseph, Mr. Phinney, owner of the building, leased it to him for a year, and afterwards leased it to Mr. Thompson.

Both men arrived the same day to take possession. Mr. Phinney settled the dispute between them in some way, and now Joseph takes possession.

Quite a lot of talk is occasioned by the situation of the prohibition question in Manitoba. Hugh John is the hero of the hour over it.

Conventions of the prohibitionists are being held in nearly all the towns around to raise money and pass resolutions, showing their sympathy.

The money is raised to fight the question in the coming campaign. A lively discussion took place in the Leland hotel the other night on the prohibition question.

It was quite a jargon question to handle, but Mr. Hopkin, who represents the company, defeated all arguments brought out in favor of the mail shopping system.

There are a number of farmers here who own a very large acre of land over the city.

They are carrying over the city, and cash send it at once to T. Eaton & Co., Toronto. This doesn't give the merchants here a fair chance.

How can a local merchant compete in prices with Eaton's, when they have to carry debts from year to year, while Eaton gets cash?

There is talk of the C.N.R. extending its line into Holmestown to compete with the C.P.R. at that point.

His satisfaction is expressed by the farmers there on account of not being able to get cars for their produce.

A petition was circulated and signed by 207 farmers to induce the government to assist in the extension.

Our crack rink, skipped by W. Forbes, went to Killarney last week to play in the bonspiel. They captured all the third prize.

Yours truly, G. The Husband of Mrs. Davis. New York Tribune.

They are telling an amusing story about Richard Harding Davis, who recently visited the city for the show, where Mrs. Davis, who has long been interested in dogs, had entered some fine exhibits.

Mrs. Davis was in the smoking car on his trip, down from Marion, Md., to New York, when he was accosted by an unframed stranger of somewhat "sporty" appearance.

Are you, said this gentleman, clearly sending my regards to Mrs. Davis? "Are you, Mr. Davis?" "I am not," Mr. Davis replied, calmly enough, knowing that he had facts in his favor.

He made to annihilate this presumptuous individual. "I am Mr. Davis—Richard Harding Davis."

The sporting gentleman drew back with an air of defeat and awe. "Do you mean to say," he said, "that you are the husband of Mrs. Davis, the owner of Woodstock's Jumbo?"

"I am," said the husband. "That's the name of the bull," said Mr. Davis, and vanished.

Death Of J. G. Moylan. Mr. and Mrs. Philpotts have gone to Ottawa to attend the funeral of the late J. G. Moylan, father of Mrs. Philpotts, who died suddenly on Saturday night of heart disease.

He was born in 1825 near Maynooth, Ireland. In 1851 he went to the United States as a member of the Irish Legion, and later entered the service of the city of Kingston for several leading papers.

In 1856 he came to Canada as professor of classics and English literature in the Jesuit college at Guelph. Two years later he returned to the city of Kingston as editor and publisher up to 1873.

In 1869 he was sent by the Irish land commission to Ireland as dominion commissioner, and in 1872 he became a member of the board of penitentiary directors, and three years later, on the abolition of the board, he was appointed sole inspector of penitentiaries for the Dominion.

He retained this office till 1895, when he retired on a pension. Crusade Against High Collars. A secret movement among New York manufacturers, of collars to discourage the demand for high-collared or double band collars has come to light.

The aim is to save linen. The profit of making a high turned down is thirty-five per cent. less than for the other shape.

The retailers feel this only slightly, the loss being sustained mostly by the manufacturers. The means of destroying the popularity of the protested style are simple.

SPINNING MILL COLLAPSED

EIGHT HUNDRED PERSONS IN THE BUILDING.

The Work of Rescuing is Going on Now—Five Dead Recovered and Ten Injured—Could Not Turn Off Hot Water.

Belfast, Jan. 20.—The wall of a large spinning mill here collapsed today imprisoning many workmen.

Five dead men and ten seriously injured have been recovered. Eight persons were still buried in the ruins.

There were eight hundred persons, mostly women, in the building when the walls collapsed.

To add to the horrors of the situation the hot water could not be turned off and several persons were scalded to death, who were uninjured in the wreckage.

Many Killed. Barcelona, Jan. 20.—The explosion of the boiler of a spinning mill near Manassia destroyed half of the village of Puerto de Manassia.

The village of Manassia, is filled with the injured. It is estimated that sixty persons were killed and 100 injured and many of the latter are not expected to recover.

The dead include many women and children. The queen has wired her condolences.

There are over 100 mad dogs and gasoline lamps in charge of construction at Clayton and Alexandria B.C. Owing to the prevalence of small-pox in Ferris, B.C., the whole town has been quarantined and all citizens are to be vaccinated.

A silk mill will be located in Ogdensburg shortly. A bonus will be given to the enterprise. News from Pawnee, Ont., tells of an outbreak of the Indians on the reserve.

Depositors of the First National bank, at Carthage, N.Y., are to be paid another dividend of five per cent., making a total of ninety-five per cent.

The by-law to provide $200,000 for the purchase of the water works at Peterboro received its third reading and was signed by the mayor on Thursday night.

Mrs. Taylor, who went over Niagara Falls and lived, is stranded in Cincinnati. She has no food and owes a board bill. She applied to the mayor for charity.

Thomas Cull, an old citizen of Winnipeg, died suddenly in bed on Saturday night. He was apparently in the best of health when he retired. He was aged eighty-five and came from Quebec.

Owners of ice-boats are again warned that they are responsible for accidents occurring on the road marked out between Kingston and the island. Boats must keep west of the road.

The Wellingtons will not reach Winnipeg until sometime this afternoon, the train being three hours late. The weather will be decidedly in the winter favor and the temperature takes an old time drop before 10:30 morning evening.

Mrs. LeMoine will be seen in a delightful historical comedy, "The First Duchess of Marlborough," at the new Grand opera house, on Jan. 22nd, and a rich and tasteful production of the play is promised.

The event will be a notable one from a dramatic standpoint. Williams David Ross, Winnipeg, dropped dead of apoplexy. His son found him lying on the floor of the stable, whether he had gone to look after his horse. Mr. Ross was an old and highly respected resident.

He moved west eighteen years ago from Point Lewis, Que. The Boston Herald, in an able article, says "that the tide of emigration is turning to Canada. The soil and climate is better adapted for settlement. People are looking for homes for themselves and children, and something to show for their toil and anxiety in their closing days."

The Belle of New York, with its merry lyrical jingles, its pretty girls and delightful ensembles, will be seen at the Grand on Wednesday next. The company is headed by Edward J. Connelly and Miss Beulah Dodge. The sale of seats opened this morning.

The indications are "The Belle of New York" will be greeted by a packed house. The Canadian Niagara power company has awarded the contract for the construction of the big wheel pit and the intake canal, in the Queen Victoria-Niagara Falls park, to Lawton & Bell, St. Catharines. The contract involves an expenditure of over half a million dollars.

DISTRICT DASHES.

An Irish terrier, owned by Rev. Fr. O'Gorman, Gananoque, was either "run over" or "killed" on Tuesday last. (Other dogs disappeared the same day. Fr. O'Gorman refused $125 for the dog lost, as it is one of the finest of its kind in America.)

COMMITTED TO HOME RULE. Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman's Utterances Most Important.

London, Jan. 20.—The most important event of the re-assembling of parliament was undoubtedly the emphatic declaration of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the liberal leader in the house of commons, that the liberal party is still committed to home rule. This was so, after a variance with Lord Rosebery's Chesterfield speech that it was taken to completely nullify the other passages of Sir Henry's opening speech, by which he endeavored to conciliate the Rosebery faction.

The speaker said this re-nailing of the home rule flag to the liberal mast is a "new and violent repudiation of the imperialist wing." Other quarters have taken the home rule announcement of the Bannerman with speech that it was taken to completely nullify the other passages of Sir Henry's opening speech, by which he endeavored to conciliate the Rosebery faction.

The "concession for a line of railroad connecting the Bosphorus with the Persian gulf is regarded as extremely important, both politically and commercially. When completed it will bring India within approximately eight days of London.

WHISKERS AND MILK. London Punch.

According to the Daily Graphic of November 7th, whiskers, it appears, form the latest delicacy of the purveyors of our morning's milk. The New York medical milk commission state in a report just issued that "the milk from a cow that is milked by a chauffered man is purer than the milk from a cow milked by a man with whiskers."

The reason being that the whiskers collect microbes from the air, and these are shaken off into the milk during the process of milking. This is the milk we pay for.

This is the cow that wasn't a pump. For over the moon was known to jump. But provided the milk we pay for!

This is the head dairymaid. Who habitually holds a peck or can (fisher) with the cow that wasn't a pump. But made it his business to take the milk. While providing the milk we pay for!

These are the whiskers that run to seed (for the face like a patch of garden weeds) all the hair and innocent dairymaid. Who at rookery would hold a peck or can to comfort the cow, not to mention the pump.

That nestled them over the law to jump. And provided the "milk" we pay for! These are the microbes all alive. Which daily delighted to take a dive in the cream from the whiskers that ran to seed.

That nestled them over the law to jump. And provided the "milk" we pay for! This is the baby, five months old. The somewhat disgusted, had to hold a bottle of microbes all alive. That just quipped their peck and made a mess.

From the whiskers that ran, as I've said, to seed. For the face like a patch of garden weeds) all the hair and innocent dairymaid. Who at rookery would hold a peck or can to comfort the cow, not to mention the pump.

And made his that off from sheep we jump. And take in the skin we pay for! This is the milk we'll use for!
