THE FORESTERS' CONCERT

DR. MONTAGUE, EX-M.P., MADE A FINE ADDRESS.

The Hall was Packed To The Doors—An Entertaining Program—Some Facts About The Work Done By The Order.

The annual concert given by the Foresters of the city is always well patronized and thoroughly enjoyable.

Piano solo, Miss Ina Miller, song, "The Holy City," Miss Cooper; piano duet, Masters Pettigrew and Butcher; song, "The Soldier," by Master O'Hagan, dressed in a dragon uniform; recitation, Miss Richardson; songs and sailors' romps, W. Shea; recitation, Mr. Hooker. Each did well and frequent encores were demanded.

J. C. Morgan, of Barrie, Ont., was one of the chief entertainers of the evening, and the Foresters did well in securing his aid. He has a good voice, great animation and clever elocutionary powers.

The speaker of the evening was Hon. Dr. Montague, a man well-known to all readers of political events. He will also be remembered as having delivered an address at the unveiling of the city park monument to Sir John A. Macdonald.

"This is the first time that I have been in your city hall, and I must compliment you upon decorating your hall with the faces of those who have presided over the past of the city."

The speaker recalled his old college days in Kingston, and said he and Dr. Herald studied medicine together. He related several amusing anecdotes, of which like every other politician, he has an abundance in stock.

"The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world," quoted Dr. Montague. "This is true to-day than ever before. Woman is reaching up to take her true place in the world."

Dr. Montague was heartily applauded when he took his seat. He spoke for less than twenty-five minutes, but he said a great deal in that time, and quite it well.
