WANTS THE APPEAL CASE HEARD.

The A.O.U.W. Grand Lodge Now In Session In Toronto-A Question of Importance To Local Electric Railway Com-

Toronto, Feb. 19 .- In the court appeal this morning there was a curious development in the Watts extradition case. It came up on appeal from he decision of justice Street that J. Watts, accused of stealing daughter from his divorced wife, must go back to the United States to stand trial. Judge Street ordered Watts, who had been out on bail, back into close custody. Mr. Watts did understand this and instead of Cotton mills throughout the United States turning to jail came down to Toront court this morning, but Mr. Shepley, returned to custody and till be himself up the crown could not sent to going on with the appeal. Watts must, therefore, go back to
