THE SWISS REFERENDUM

OVER 90 PER CENT. OF POPULATION HAVE IT.

It Has Gradually Gained Ground—Where the Referendum Is In Force All Measures Are Submitted to the People.

Pictou, Feb. 18.—(To the Editor): Will you give me space in your issue to say a few words on the referendum. I have made a considerable study of the initiative and referendum as practiced by the Swiss republic, set forth in that very valuable work, "Direct Legislation Through the Initiative and Referendum," by J. W. Sullivan, who spent a number of years in collecting information for his book, part of which time was spent in Switzerland where he studied their system of government in all its branches.

Robust Religious Faith

Bishop Brewster Tells What Kipling Said When Very Ill.

New Haven, Feb. 22.—Bishop Brewster, in his talk to the students on "Robust Religious Faith," cited for them the case of Kipling's Kipling when he was critically ill in New York. He said:

"I suppose you young men are more or less readers of Kipling's Kipling. There is no name in English literature that stands more truly for manly courage than Kipling's. In fact he is said to be not only a manly enough to suit some of his critics. The story I am to relate about Kipling, and I suppose none of you has heard it, comes to me from the hand of the strong, vigorous faith which is the heart of his manly writings.
