HER HUSBAND

A Lady Who Cures Her Husband of M's Drinking Habits Writes of Her Struggle to Save Her Home.

A PATHETIC LETTER.

"I had for a long time been thinking of trying the Tasteless Samaria Prescription treatment on my husband for his drinking habits, but I was afraid he would discover that I was giving him medicine, and the thought unnerved me. I hesitated for nearly a week, but one day when he came home very much intoxicated and his week's salary nearly all spens, I threw off all fear and determined to make an effort to have our home from the rest. coming, at all hazards. I sent for your Tasteless Samaria Prescription, and put it in his coffee as directed next morning and watched and prayed for the result. At noon I gave him more and also at sup-At noon I gave him more and also at supper. He never suspected a thing, and I then boldly kept right on giving it regularly, as I had discovered something that set every nerve in my my body tingling with hope and happiness, and I could see a bright future spread out before mean peaceful, happy home, a share in the good things of life, an attentive loving hus. band, comforts, and everything else dear to a woman's heart; for my husband had told me that whisker was vile stuff and he was taking a dislike to it. It was only too true, for before I had given him the full course he had stopped drinking altogether, but I kept giving him the medicine till it was gone, and then sent for another let, to have on hand if he should re-

Farmers Need to be Very Careful in Getting Their Supplies-Only Reliable Seed Importers Should be Dealt With.

The following article is from th pen of G. H. Clark, B.S.A., chief of the seed division, department of agri-

Our supply of foreign grown seed is bought and imported principally by our larger seed firms. They may make their purchases either by paying commensurate price to reliable European seed growers, men grow seed from selected pedigreed stock or, they may buy seed at much lower price seed that is grown by men whose chief aim has been to quarters, 84c. a produce a large quantity, independ quarters, 104c. a lb.; hog ent of the quality of the crop it will produce. Unfortunately, fair competition in the seed trade, is practically impossible, since seeds is but a slight indication of the their real value. The competition has been, and is too largely confined to prices alone. Farmers continue to patronize the local dealer who is able to 75c. to quote a low price for his goods. The local dealer demands a low priced seed off the wholesale firms, and in turn there has been a growing strife among wholesale seed firms in the buying of cheap goods, with which to supply local dealers. It is well to mention, however, that through the progressive spirit of trade of the best stocks of root crops seeds has been fostered and there is little difficulty experienced among intelligent farmers, in getting the best quality of seeds provided that they seed from selected pedigreed stock. Appeals have been made, both by strictions on the seed trade, as will right to place such goods on market, by allowing them to place

Far from improving, conditions ome still more distressing. Needs are no less and consumers in many lines are urgent, says Dun's Review, of New York. Prospects are bright for long September or later, unless new plants under construction are in operation earlier than expected. The adverse may be placed abroad, yet this cannot be profitably done except on early shipments. The outlook is certainly most encouraging for the rest of this year, and probably next, but there is always the possibility that productive capacity will be so largely extended that any check to consumption will throw a lot of machinery into idle Less. This fear of excessive capacity has been in evidence throughout the last three of four years, and it is this excess of conservatism, together with diminution in national growth, that has brought the industry to its present congested condition.

Statistics of pig iron output and consumption, as complied by the Iron Age, are little short of phenomenal These figures indicate-that the cou sumption during January must have amounted to about 1,500,000 tons, or at the unprecedented rate of 18,000,000 tons annually.

A most effective comparison is made by taking the rate of weekly production on February 1st, which surpassed all records at 340,612 tons. and comparing it with the output on October 1st, 1900, which was 223,169 tons. Yet, in the face of this increas of over 100,000 tons weekly, consump tive needs have been such that fur nace stocks declined from 670,531 tons at the earlier date to 154,200 tons on February 1st, 1902. While these figures do not include the holdings of steel works producing their own pig iron, they show that present supplies are down to hard pan, and threaten seria lbd kippered herring, 40c. a dozen; All branches of the industry are affect ed.
