Remount Scandal the Result Of a Private Squabble-It Is More Than Probable That War Will End Within Six Months.

London, March 4 .- A strange story is exciting much discussion among from ordinary despatches and official explanations cannot be obtained from Pall Mall. A curious light has been thrown on the remount scandals by a high officer of the government, who tells that whatever merits or demerits of case it would never have come up had not a private squabble arisen between members of the house of commons.

According to this statement, one which was refused in favor of a Newing members of the house of commons had bitter grudges. A cabal was formed, regardless of party lines, and a determination was arrived at to make the government suffer for givmentary racing set. These personal grievances, apparently, had long been common talk in the lobby of the house of commons, and the bait thrown to the opposition by the aisgruntled unionists was eagerly taken up with the resulting exposition of the horse scandals.

On the best informed opinion, the Pall Mall Gazette prophesies the end of all serious hostilities in South Africa by September. That, it is said, is a pessimistic rather than an optimistic view. Judging from lord Kitchener's progress last week and the wellfounded reports of Gen. Botha's personal inclination to surrender, the practical end of the struggle may considerably antedate September.

coal oil to a cook stove fire yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Sophia Marchand was painfully burned about the back, arms and hands. She was removed to St. Luke's hospital for treatment. The accident happened in the small frame house, 219 Bank street. Mrs. Marchand had only taken possession yesterday and placed her new household in order. Her niece, Caroline Young, a ten-year-old girl, was assisting. She placed fuel in the stove preparatory to starting the fire and used coal oil to help on the flame. Her aunt, according to the girl's story, added more oil, and when the match was applied the flames burst forth. The girl's skirt became isnited, kept out of both press and parlia-ment.
