Mr. Mulock informed Mr. Alcorn that David Clinton, postmaster at Wellington, Ont., had been dismissed from office for offensive partizanship, having been in the habit, particular. ly at parliamentary elections of lowing the post office to be used his political friends practically as a committee room, and permitting posters of a partizan character to be hung up on the walls of the post office, to the annoyance of the public doing business there. His health was also so poor that he could not give proper personal attention to the affairs f the office. Hon. Mr. Sutherland, replying Mr. Beiand, said that the government did not intend having an investigation in reference to the alleged utterances of Prof. Prince in an interview Prof. Prince, as alleged, had written to the department, stating that

Curious Royal Household Officials

Many curious officials still appertain roval household and many have been dispensed with of late years. Among the latter class must be placed the royal rateatcher; the office has become obsolete, but not unfortunately for lack of rats. It was during the reigns of the Georges that this functionary had his heyday, hence, perhaps the popular idea that the now very prevalent brown rat came over with the Hanoverians. Like other esteemed royal officials, the ratticular dress; it was of a scarlet hue, day he surprised her by saving, somecatcher was distinguished by a parelaborately embroidered with yellow what testily, 'Give me some of Crosworsted, and displayed figures of rats kery's Eastern Balm." Result : Since destroying wheat sheaves. The Gentleman's Magazine of 1741 contains an announcement that "Mr. Gower had been selected for the office of ratkiller to his majesty, with a salary of £100 a year," and that it was "an honorable office," which remark seems unnecessary. Is there a living descendant of Mr. Gower to place his claims before the court ?

Swallowed Two Dozen Bass. While the employees of the Dominion fish company, Brock street, were cleaning a five-pourd pike this afternoon, they discovered over two dozen little bass, about an inch long, in its stomach. The fish must have run across a whole school of the little fellows, and gobbled nearly all of them. The fish men say that it is very seldom that they find such an occurrence. The pike was caught in the waters of the Rideau. The men who supply bait to fishermen are not the only ones who thin out the minnows.
