EXTRAORDINARY FIND

By Ivory Coast Gold Fields Company.

STAGNANT STOCK MARKETS.

SOME FRIGHTENED BY MARCONI'S SUCCESSES.

The King's Health is Said to be Excellent—London is Unusually Gay—Santos-Dumont To Continue His Experiments in England.

London, March 5.—A despatch to the Central News, from Grand Bassant, says survey which have just been completed by prospectors of the Ivory Coast gold fields company, show that there is blanketed ore on an almost unbroken line for eleven miles, assaying one ounce and upwards. This is regarded as one of the most extraordinary discoveries ever made.

The stagnant stock markets are due to the lightness of money and the comparative collapse of the South African boom. The latter is attributed to rumors respecting Cecil Rhodes' health, but the more reasonable explanation is that the resumption of activity in Kaffir mines, causing many breaks in dinner engagements.

M. Santos-Dumont, who is in London, says that he will make no more experiments in France, but confine himself in future to England and the United States.

The king's health is reported to be excellent. He aines out constantly and goes to the theatres. The tremendous pressure of public business connected with coronation and the celebration of his health or spirits, London is unusually gay for March, dinner parties, followed by bridge, being the feature. A spurious sort of influenza, not really dangerous, causes many breaks in dinner engagements.

M. Santos-Dumont, who is in London, says that he will make no more experiments in France, but confine himself in future to England and the United States.

Prince Ching says that the rebels in Kiangsi province, China, are discharged soldiers. A Curious Community.

London, March 5.—Count Tolstoi's illness calls to notice a small community of professed disciples in the Norfolk village styling themselves the Brotherhood church. The members are forbidden to give or receive money. They work for a living but accept payment only in kind. All property is held in common. CROSSED INTO CANADA

Immigrants Turn From The United States.

A FINE RECORD FOR 1901

LAROSE WILL BE GIVEN FULL JUSTICE.

Case of Man Hit by Cote St. Luc Range Bullet is Looked Into by Minister of Militia—General Capital Tidings.

Ottawa, March 5.—The tide of immigration is working from the United States to Canada. Figures given by the agricultural committee proved that beyond a doubt: Frank Pedley, superintendent of immigration, in his testimony before the agricultural committee, stated that in 1901, 17,900 immigrants entered the Canadian west from the United States. The department based its calculation on homestead entries and land sales and the figures were absolutely accurate.

Some time ago Joseph Larose, St. Laurent, Que., was hit by a stray bullet that came from the direction of the Cote St. Luc rifle range. Mr. Larose, by asking for a copy of the correspondence brought the matter before the house. The man was disabled and is a permanent cripple in consequence of the accident, and had lost a suit against the government to recover damages on a technicality.

Hon. Dr. Borden said $1,000 had once before been placed in the estimates for this man, but he declined to accept it and had brought a suit which he had lost. Dr. Borden said he had no idea the man had been permanently injured, and if Mr. Monk would drop the matter he would have a surgical investigation made. The minister of militia intimated that justice would be done the man though the responsibility in law of the government was not acknowledged.

Frank Newby, a Roman Catholic priest, who had received an interesting letter from Mr. Charles Ross, commanding the Canadian scouts in South Africa, and dated January 24th, at Pretoria. He has been operating the month I had a fight and had two white men killed. Leonard Evans, an old Leithbridge, N.W.T., man of nine, was shot through the heart. I also had another man shot through the forehead, and he lost about three teaspoonful of brains and yet he is going to get over it all right, so the doctor says.

"My many friends in Pretoria had it that I was killed, and so were rather surprised to see me turn up again. I did have a very close call when crossing a vein to get the cover of some Kaffir huts. My horse stepped into a hole and fell on me, and he could not get up, nor could I get my leg from under him, and the Boers were not 800 yards away, shooting at me as hard as they could. Lieut. Len, and got me free from under my horse.

A bullet grazed his shoulder while relieving me; his horse was also hit. It was very lucky of him to come to me under such heavy fire. I mentioned the matter to the D.S.O.

One of the largest damage claims ever made to the city of Ottawa has been begun by Francis Lebel, who claims fifty cents for the loss of a tobacco pipe. He alleges that he was passing by Ward market some days ago, when snow fell from the roof, struck his pipe and smashed it. His lawyer set forth the claim in a letter to the city clerk.

Sir Wilfrid has engagements that will likely detain him in Ottawa after the house closes until June 13th. As he desires to be in London by the 21st of that month it is therefore probable that he will cross the Atlantic by one of the New York lines.

CHAPTER IN ELOPEMENT.

Legally Married And Living In British Columbia.

Cardonville, Ill., March 5.—In July, 1897, S. T. Rice, a prominent merchant and father of four small children, mysteriously disappeared, and with him his beautiful daughter of Col. John W. Custer, a well-known lecturer. The final chapter in the affair has just come to light. They first went to Windsor, Canada, and after a serious sickness of Mr. Rice went to Rosville, (7) British Columbia, where they now reside, and where recently they were legally married. A few months ago Mrs. Sophie Rice, on the payment of $1,000, secured a divorce from Mr. Rice.

Smothered In A Bin.

Copper Cliff, Ont., March 5.—Montrose Hays, an employee of the Canadian copper company, at Creighton mines, whose duty it was to attend to the ore bins, accidentally fell into one of the bins and was smothered to death. The remains have been sent to Pembroke, Hays' home, for burial.

New World's Swimming Record.

Boston, March 5.—Harry Lemoin, of Brooklyn, made a new world's swimming record at the Sportsman's show by covering the sixty yards in thirty-five and one-fifth seconds. The world record was thirty-four and one-fifth seconds, and the American record, thirty-six seconds.

Calve's Father Dead.

New York, March 5.—Madame Calve, singing in grand opera in this city, has been notified of the death of her father in southern France, from pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dorland, Southampton, Prince Edward county, celebrated the golden anniversary of their wedding on February 12th.

CLEVER FARMERESSES.

Solved Problem of Making a Good Living.

Jackson, Me., March 5.—The town of Jackson is said to raise more pretty girls than any other place of its size in Maine. A good number of them have gone to New York and Chicago and married millionaires, and such as have stayed at home are now actively engaged in solving the problem as to how a single woman can support herself and make money on a rocky hillside farm.

The system of culture as pursued in Jackson consists of dividing their farm into three equal parts, one for the hen yard, one for corn and one for clover, shifting the crop from one area to the other every year. The woman who has a nine-acre farm puts her hen yard of last year into corn this season, and shifts her hen yard to last year's clover patch.

She relies upon the hen-dressing left in the old yard to furnish fertilizer for her corn and when the corn crop is so high as to receive its last visit from the horse-cultivator the land is sowed to turnip seed and red clover between the rows, which come up and grow in the shade.

As soon as the frost comes and the turnips occupy the land, giving a nice shade to the young clover plants and producing turnips enough to keep the poultry in green food until spring. When the potatoes have been husked and dried for six months, so that it will pop readily, the dealers pay five cents a pound for all they can get, buying it on the cob.

CONSTRUCTING A WILL.

A Grandson of Hon. Mr. Renaud Wants Share.

Ottawa, March 5.—In the supreme court to-day the case of Renaud N. Lamotte was heard. The dispute involves the construction of a codicil to the will of the late Hon. Louis Renaud, which provided that any of his children who should marry outside the Roman Catholic church, or grand-children born of such marriages or not brought up in the Roman Catholic faith, should be excluded from taking any benefit out of his estate. The appellant claims an account and his share as a guardian of the testator. His father married in Illinois, in civil form, before a magistrate in 1876, after the date of the codicil, and the executors contend that the appellant is excluded on account of the civil marriage and that he is not a member of the Roman Catholic church. The court, after a long hearing, decided in favor of the appellant, and the executors contend that the appellant is excluded on account of the civil marriage and that he is not a member of the Roman Catholic church. The court, after a long hearing, decided in favor of the appellant, and the executors contend that the appellant is excluded on account of the civil marriage and that he is not a member of the Roman Catholic church.
